fiery devastation

© PHILIP BLOOM/GETTY IMAGES

A wildfire in Waldo Canyon, Colo., devoured over 18,000 acres and forced the evacuation of more than 32,000 residents. The fire destroyed 346 homes and caused 2 deaths, which made it the most damaging in state history.

minority rules

The Census Bureau announced that for the first time in U.S. history, minorities made up the majority of births. Minority births comprised 50.4% of the population which revealed the increase of racial diversity within the country.

a century of girl scouts

The Girl Scouts' mission is to help girls make the world a better place through courage, confidence and character.

The Girl Scouts organization marked its 100th year in 2012. Girl Scouts was founded in 1912 and since, 50 million members across 145 countries have joined.

fiscal cliff

Both the Senate and House of Representatives approved a bipartisan bill to avert the "fiscal cliff." The bill continues tax cuts to individuals making less than $400,000 and couples earning less than $450,000 per year. The bill also prolonged unemployment benefits.

queen's jubilee

The 85-year-old Queen of England celebrated 60 years as reigning monarch during a 4-day Diamond Jubilee. The festivities drew a crowd of more than 1 million people. Other celebratory events happened throughout the year, including national and overseas visits and several garden parties.

dragon launches to space

The first privately funded spacecraft mission was completed by SpaceX's Dragon capsule, which carried goods such as clothing, food and equipment to the International Space Station. The launch marked a new era for American space exploration.

out of this world

Venus appeared from the diameter of the sun so it looked like a small dot to the human eye.

© MATT SCHULTZ/ALAMY

A rare astronomical event called the Venus transit made it possible for people to see the planet as it orbited around the sun. This occurrence lasted over 6 hours and won't be seen again for 100 years.

energy solutions

© SHUTTERSTOCK/ANDREW

Energy conservation and sustainability were hot topics in Washington D.C. Natural gas was one energy source that was highly debated. Twenty-five percent of U.S. energy comes from natural gas because it is cleaner than other energy sources. However, the process of getting natural gas can cause water and air pollution.

kicking the habit

© Alan C. C. / ALAMY

A study published in Science Translational Medicine announced a potential vaccine to help smokers kick the habit. The vaccine pumps antibodies from the kidneys through the bloodstream to halt nicotine's addictive qualities before it reaches the brain. Though it has only been tested on mice, scientists are hopeful it could also work for humans.

cave robbing spider

© J. L. K. / ALAMY

A new spider about the size of a silver dollar was found in the Pacific Northwest. The spider was nicknamed "cave robber" for where it lives and its long claws.

curiosity takes Mars

Mars rover Curiosity landed on the Red Planet after 8 months of travel for its 98-week mission. Curiosity wasn't the first vehicle to land on Mars, but was NASA's biggest and it contained the most research tools to uncover signs of any previous life on Mars.

Higgs particle

Physicists discovered the Higgs boson, a small particle that carries mass between other particles. The find was monumental since scientists were never able to verify its existence.

tastier tomatoes

The tomato has 35,000 genes—25% more genes than a human.

© Creatively Altered

Scientists determined the entire genome sequence of the tomato, which reveals additional information about the fruit's genetic structure. Researchers can learn how the species evolved over time and how to produce more tasty and nutritious varieties.

spray-on power

© SK Innovation/Reuters

A team of mechanical engineers published research on their latest invention: spray-on, rechargeable batteries. They broke down the battery components and transformed them into liquid—a discovery that may eventually lead to spray-on batteries for items such as cars.

nowhere to go but up

© Sky Green Farms/Reuters

Sky Green Farms developed the first vertical, commercial-scale vegetable farm in Singapore. Vertical farms are pyramid-like structures made of metal with many levels containing trays of vegetables. The vertical farms are perfect for areas such as Singapore, where real estate is limited and typical farming practices take up too much space.

solar-powered plane

© NASA/Reuters

At 43.5 mph, Solar Impulse made its historic solar-powered intercontinental flight between Switzerland and Morocco, with a stop in Spain. The plane's 12,000 solar cells across its wingspan captured the sun's energy to run its motors and recharge the battery. The mission demonstrated the potential for pollution-free air travel.

diamond detergent

© Science Photo Library

A U.K. team of researchers discovered that very small pieces of carbon called nanodiamonds can help detergents more effectively clean clothing with cold water. These findings were part of the "Cold Water Cleaning Initiative" that aimed to find energy savings by replacing hot water with cold for household chores.

coral finding in tropical reefs

© Dr. David Holmberg/Reuters

A new coral species was discovered in the western part of the Coral Triangle. The coral lives on cave ceilings and is unique because it lacks the bacteria that other coral need to survive. It can tolerate low light levels in deep waters and has small polyp sizes, which cause it to grow slowly.

trunk speak

© AP/Wide World/Reuters

A study in Current Biology reported that a South Korean elephant named Koshik could speak. The elephant used its trunk and throat to mimic his trainers' speech, and spoke the Korean words for "hello," "no," "good," "sit down" and "lie down."

virtual keyboard

Brockstone stores offered a virtual keyboard (manufactured by CTX Virtual Technologies) to consumers. It is the smallest and most affordable ($99 each) virtual keyboard of its kind. The keyboard image is projected via laser from a small key chain. Optical sensors track the user's finger movements and Bluetooth technology connects it back to the wireless device.

robot plays rock, paper, scissors

© TSMC / Wikimedia Commons

Physicists at the University of Tokyo created a robot that can play rock, paper, scissors and win 100% of the time against humans. The robot was programmed with a high-speed camera that senses human wrist motion in 1 millisecond and determines which move the player will choose before the motion is even made. Someday, similar technology might be used in assembly line work and even in hospitals.

the egg & i

© Eggasus

A new egg-shaped car called "Eggasus" joined the eco-friendly vehicle market. The 3-wheel car gives off zero emissions and is ideal for compact, urban spaces. "Eggasus" costs $5,000 and fits one person inside. It can reach 25 mph and travel a distance of about 50 miles.

digital pills

© Novartis Digital Health

The first digital pill was approved by the FDA. The digital chip, the size of a grain of sand, is implanted in a pill that is taken at the same time as the patient's medication. The chip sends an electric signal to a patch worn on the person's skin which sends the information to medical professionals for monitoring.

built for speed

© PLA NIAI

Trench engineer Luc Tuszard developed customized shoes to enhance athletic performance. First, a digital model is made of the athlete's foot. Then, using special powder with a 3-D printing technique, the shoes are built for a perfect fit. The shoes can improve speed performance up to 4.5%.

engineered copter

© University of Maryland School of Engineering

Students at the University of Maryland School of Engineering set a new unofficial record for flight time in the Gamma II, a helicopter powered by foot pedals and a hand crank. The machine weighed nearly 75 lbs. and stayed in the air for about 65 seconds at 9 ft. off the ground.

presto pie

AI Concepts, a Netherlands-based company, plans to bring its pizza vending machine technology called "1 in 5 Pizza" to the U.S. The machine takes 2.5 minutes to make the pizza and another minute to bake it. The 11-inch pizza sells for $5.95.

The average American consumes 22 lbs. of pizza per year.

Google glass

© 2012 GOOGLE

Google Glass was named one of TIME magazine's "Best Inventions of the Year." The glasses look ordinary, but when wearers look up and to the right they'll notice the difference. The glasses have a built-in computer that allows users to access Google tools; it also contains an earpiece and speaker. Google plans to release the glasses in 2014 for $1,500 each.

extreme crash sensor

© 2012 ICB

The ICBdot Crash Sensor was introduced to the market specifically for people who participate in high-risk sports. A GPS sensor is attached to the athlete's helmet. If it detects a high-impact fall, a 30-second countdown begins. The person must stop the countdown, or Bluetooth technology sends a message with GPS coordinates to the user's emergency contacts.

the mini

The starting price of an iPad mini was $329.

© 2012 APPLE INC.

Apple's iPad mini, a smaller version of the iPad, launched to compete with small tablets produced by Google and Amazon. The new device has a 7.9-in. screen, is 7.2 mm thick and weighs .68 lbs.

© GroundWave Dance Trainers by Tom Sykes. Produced at Loughborough University

dancing shoes

GroundWave Shadow Trainers, a shoe prototype that helps teach people how to dance, was designed by Tom Sykes from Loughborough University. Sensors in the shoes are connected to a smartphone app, which tracks the user's movement and provides feedback. The shoes were created to teach dance and encourage physical activity for kids.

talking cars

A year-long study with "talking cars" was conducted by the Department of Transportation. Nearly 3,000 cars were equipped with wireless transmitters that sent out the car's location, speed and direction. With this data, the car warned the driver of potential dangers to prevent collisions.

tennis grand slams

Andy Murray and Serena Williams both won the Singles titles at the US Open. Murray defeated Novak Djokovic in set 5, making it his 1st Grand Slam title. Serena Williams continued to dominate by beating Victoria Azarenka, and earned her 15th Grand Slam title and 4th US Open championship.

golf's giants

Four different players won each of this year's major golf championships. Bubba Watson finished 10 under and made both holes in a sudden-death play-off to win the Masters Tournament. The U.S. Open Championship went to Webb Simpson, who earned his 1st major title 1 stroke ahead of his closest opponents. Ernie Els' win in the Open Championship made Els the 8th player to win a major in 3 different decades. Rory McIlroy won the PGA Championship by a PGA-record 8 strokes.

indy 500

Dario Franchitti placed first at the Indy 500 to earn his 3rd title. Franchitti drove for his teammate and former race winner Dan Wheldon, who passed away in a crash last year. He wore white glasses afterward in honor of Wheldon.

tour de France

Bradley Wiggins of Britain celebrated a win in the Tour de France and was the first Brit to ever win the race. Wiggins beat out 2nd place finisher, and Team Sky teammate Chris Froome, by more than a 3-minute margin.

basketball fever

The Indiana Fever won their first WNBA championship against the Minnesota Lynx in Game 4 with a final score of 87-78. Tamika Catchings of the Fever scored 25 points in the final game and earned the MVP award.

Swimming Sensation
Missy Franklin won the hearts of many with her big smile and strong strokes at the games. She won gold in the 100-meter and 200-meter backstroke, as well as a record-setting gold and bronze in the women's relays.

Fastest Man
Usain Bolt made history by winning the 100, 200 and 4x100m relay events in back-to-back Olympic games, holding onto his World's Fastest Man title.

golden highlights - london olympics

Fab Five
The women's U.S. Gymnastics team beat Russia to win gold in an exciting finish. Gymnast Gabby Douglas also won gold in the Individual All-Around.

Most Medals
Swimmer Michael Phelps officially earned the title of most decorated Olympian with 22 career medals, 18 of which were gold. Phelps finished his career in London with 4 gold and 2 silver medals.

ravens fly to victory

The Baltimore Ravens and San Francisco 49ers faced off in Super Bowl XLVII, which was held in New Orleans. The Ravens took a 22-point lead when the stadium's power went out for nearly half an hour. Once the power returned, the 49ers tried to erase the gap in a second-half surge but the Ravens held on for a 34-31 victory. The Ravens quarterback, Joe Flacco, earned the MVP award.

derby dazzler

"I'll Have Another" ran for the roses and won the Kentucky Derby by beating out Bodemeister in the final stretch. Only a few weeks later, "I'll Have Another" won again at the Preakness, and was on the path for the first Triple Crown title in 34 years. However, shortly following the Preakness, the champion developed tendonitis and was withdrawn from the Belmont Stakes.

heat trumps thunder

The Miami Heat won the NBA title over the Oklahoma City Thunder in Game 5 with a final score of 121-106. Team leader LeBron James earned the MVP award.

to the extreme

Los Angeles hosted the Summer X Games with 18 events held over a 11-day period for BMX, Motocross, Rally Car Racing and Skateboard. Bob Burnquist won his 22nd career medal at the Games and defended his title in the Skateboard Slope. Ali Vicki Golden won gold in the Motocross for the second year in a row, following an injury earlier in the year.

giant win

The San Francisco Giants won the World Series in just 4 games in the best-of-seven series against the Detroit Tigers. The win marked the Giants' 2nd World Series title in 3 years, the team's 7th title in the franchise's 128-year history.

asian sweep

For the first time in history, Asian women won all 4 majors in the calendar year. South Korean Sun Young Yoo won the Kraft Nabisco Championship in a one-hole playoff. Na Yeon Choi, also from South Korea, earned the first place title at the U.S. Women's Open and beat her closest opponent by 4 shots. Fellow South Korean Jiyai Shin won the Women's British Open with a record 9-stroke victory. Shanshan Feng became the first player from China to win the LPGA title with a 6-under finish overall.

little league all-stars

The Little League All-Stars of Japan won the 66th Little League Baseball World Series against Tennessee with a 12-2 lead. The game was shortened to 5 innings because of the 10-run mercy rule.

hockey kings

For the first time in franchise history, the Los Angeles Kings skated off with the Stanley Cup. On home ice, the champions beat the New Jersey Devils in Game 6 with a 6-1 lead. Goalkeeper Jonathan Quick was named MVP.

olympic question

What was your favorite Olympic event and why?

Would you rather be in the Summer Olympics or Winter Olympics?

soccer stars

The Sporting Kansas City defeated the Seattle Sounders in overtime to win the men's Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup after a 3-2 shootout. The Women's Professional League suspended the 2012 season and then announced it would not return for 2013 due to low attendance and lack of resources.

young stars shine

No one was safe from the infamous slime at Nickelodeon's Kids' Choice Awards. Bump award for Favorite Song went to LMFAO's "Party Rock Anthem." Justin Bieber was chosen as Favorite Male Singer and Favorite Female Singer was Selena Gomez. Alvin and the Chipmunks: Chipwrecked won Favorite Movie.

Make a copy or cut out the square below.

1

Fill in colors, numbers & future jobs and cut square

2

Fold diagonally on orange lines, bringing opposite corners to meet

3

Open paper and fold each corner to center

4

Now each corner meets in the middle 5

Flip folded paper over

6

Fold 4 corners so points meet in the center

7

Your paper now looks like this 8

Fold top back, so paper corners are on the outside corners from fold side

9

Slide your fingers into corners

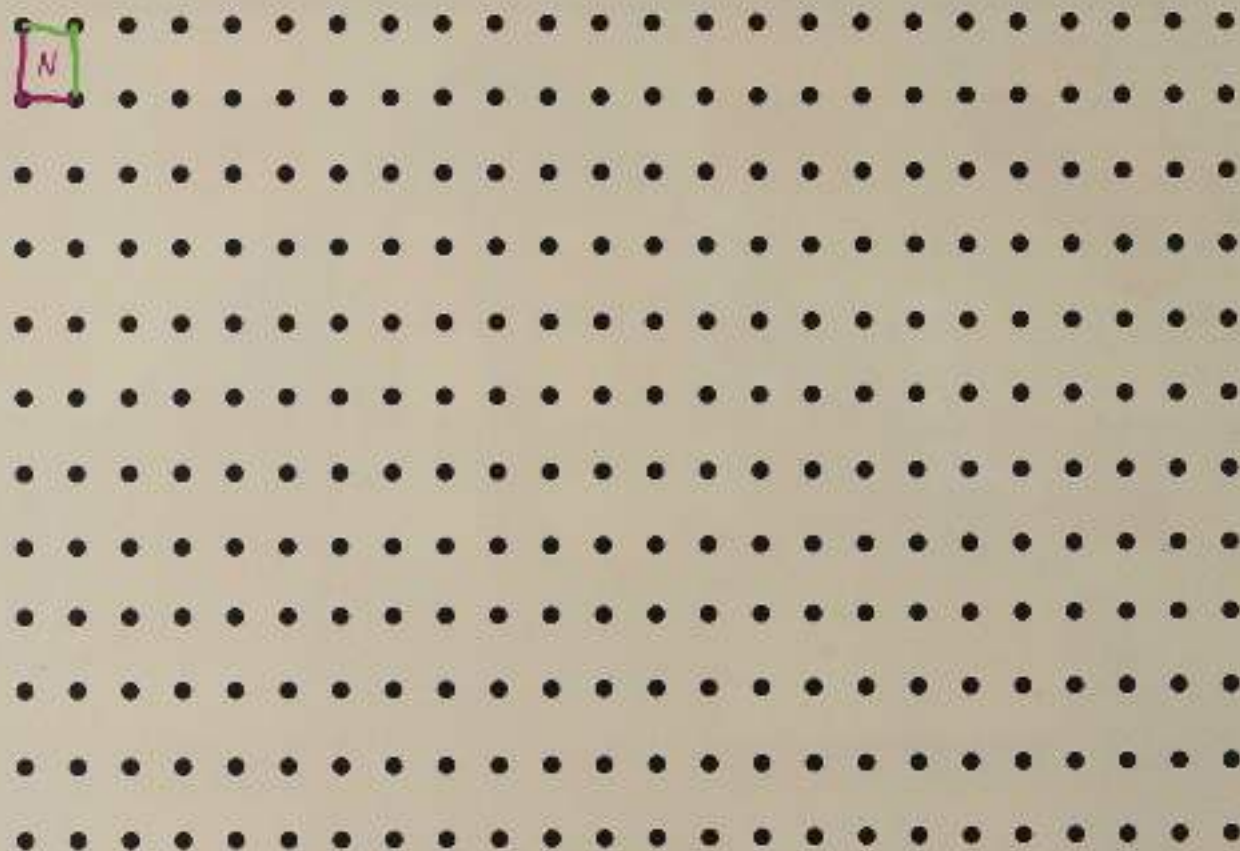

10

Work creases with fingers to form points

Directions: Draw a line to connect two dots, one player and one line at a time. The player who completes a square puts their initials in the square and takes another turn. Whoever has the most squares wins.

Ms. G.

Ms. Grappenhof (aka Ms. G.) is an extremely genuine person with a great deal of warmth and caring in her heart for all children regardless of their situation. After just three years of teaching at New Douglas Elementary, at the ripe old age of 24, she was hired as the school's principal. Although principal, Ms. G. also remained a teacher, too, for the past 23 years at New Douglas Elementary. Doing both jobs would be a tremendous challenge for most people, but with her incredible mental organizational skills, she has made the job look easy. Over the years, she has taught third, third and fourth combined, and fifth grade.

Throughout her 23 years, Ms. G. has guided her faculty and students to academic excellence. New Douglas Elementary nearly always has the highest scores in the district, and it has also been recognized as an Illinois Academic School of Excellence for the past 6 years, an award that is reserved for only three schools whose students achieve 90% or above in both reading and math for three consecutive years. This continuous achievement is a direct result of Ms. G.'s leadership, motivation, direction, and common sense approach to teaching and leading.

In a nutshell, respect, freedom, high expectations, and pride are Ms. G.'s beliefs. The promise that she makes to each and every student that no teacher will ever raise their voice in the school has provided an unbelievable climate of respect, trust, confidence, and caring for our students. The building has a very relaxed atmosphere in which students are trusted and given many freedoms.

Under Ms. G.'s leadership, students love the casual, respectful, approachable relationships that they have with all of the adults in the building. Under her direction, countless projects were created at the school, many in which the students created. The mosaic mural, the gym mural, the cafeteria wall mural, the playground map of the United States, the landscaping, the four hole mini-golf course, the tennis court, the outdoor classroom pavilion, the picnic tables so that kids could enjoy eating lunch each day outside.

As a teacher, Ms. G. makes learning fun and memorable with lessons that include learning long division problems using double new super duper hunger, doing multiplication problems "pasta" success, playing Krypto, listening to Aunt Sally stories, unbuttoning a pillowcase, eating "blind", learning to write out checks and creating their own business during the economics unit.

publishing a Choose Your Own Adventure story, and writing ps sentences. She also offered an intramural cooking class ("Kids in the Kitchen") over lunch period each winter, which allowed kids the opportunity to make and eat a snack created by their own two hands.

New Douglas Elementary School is one of the very finest around, and Ms. G. is responsible for nearly all of it. And, she always has a camera in hand to capture all of the wonderful and exciting things that the students are doing. Ms. G. goes beyond excellent, she is truly one of a kind, and she will be missed.

Mr. Rinderer

Mr. Rinderer has been a staple at the school for the past 10 years. He has provided the consistency that parents, students, and staff have always been able to count on for incredible in-depth teaching of the subject matter, for having a genuine, warm, caring, compassionate spirit for all children regardless of their situation, and for making every parent and student feel a high degree of self-worth by always taking the time to talk with them, get to know them on a personal level, and always seeing the good in them. His magnetic personality, his many life experiences and interests, and his story-telling abilities are all traits that have helped him to become a friend, not just a teacher, to all who meet him. During his tenure at New Douglas, he has taught grades three, four, five, and six - many years teaching combined grade level classes.

His lessons are not only memorable, but they also provide students with work that is truly challenging, meaningful, and relevant in the real world. He introduces characters like Bubba and Tazara and Jane to help teach math concepts. He introduces games like Krypto and Mosaicmath, which challenge students and help them develop into sharp thinkers. He provides students with an unbelievable amount of unforgettable hands-on science experiments and demonstrations, such as having them up in the basketball gym with pulleys, "boiler training", and dissecting fish.

Over the years, Mr. Rinderer has also dedicated much time out of the classroom. He coached elementary basketball and volleyball for over 25 years. He created an intramural oval hockey program 15 years ago, that he still devotes his entire lunch hour to all winter long. Besides coaching and helping with every school and PTO event for the past 30 years, he has also given of himself by organizing many weekend artifact hunts for his students and, of course, providing countless after school fishing outings for all of his students.

Mr. Rinderer has devoted his life to his students and his school, and he has developed lifelong relationships due to this devotion. He has not only touched the lives of students, but also colleagues, parents, and the entire New Douglas community. He will definitely be missed by all!

Mrs. Keeven

Who gets to school before the roosters even begin to crow? Mrs. Keeven, that's who! Mrs. Keeven gives 110% to her job each and every day. Nobody knows for sure what time she really wakes because nobody else is even awake! We just know that when the cook arrives at 6:00 am each morning, she is working actively in her classroom. Her work ethic is as good as it gets. She's dedicated beyond belief!

Mrs. Keeven began teaching at New Douglas Elementary 20 years ago. While at New Douglas, she has taught a variety of grade levels including first grade, a combined first and second grade, a combined second and third grade, third grade, and fourth grade. She received the Emerson Excellence Teaching Award in 2004 and was a finalist for Illinois Teacher of the Year in 2009.

Mrs. Keeven's classroom became known that the basics are mastered, but they are anything but basic. They are interactive, fun, hands-on, and often include all five senses. But, it is not so much the individual lessons that make Dana Keeven an extraordinary teacher, it is how she interacts with the students. She's a lady that is kind, compassionate, and full of humor. It is easy for all of her students to sense her genuine caring. She teaches character education, not in actual lesson format, but instead by her character, the way she lives her life and the way she interacts with her students throughout every second of their daily routine.

During her entire career, Mrs. Keeven has always been a tremendous example for students. She has definitely been an educator that has gone the extra mile for her students, their parents, our school, and our district. There are few like her, and she will definitely be missed.

RETIREMENT!

Donna Suhre

Donna Suhre started her teaching career in 1972 at New Douglas Elementary. She spent the next 30 years teaching within the center schools. After accepting an administrative intern position for one year at Highland Upper Elementary, Donna was promoted into an administrator/teaching position at Grantfork Upper Elementary for 7 years. She was instrumental in the transition of the Center Schools from K-6 schools to grade-leveled schools. In 2010 Donna left the classroom to serve as principal of Alhambra Primary and Grantfork Upper Elementary.

We thank her for the hours she has spent on committees, teaching, managing Latchkey, and participating in fundraisers. She will be missed. After 41 years of dedicated service to the Center Schools, we wish Donna a happy, healthy retirement filled with family, friends, and hobbies.
