FOREWORD

The graduating class of 1935 presents this fifteenth volume of the Iris as a symbol of the careers which they have chosen and the noble ideals and worthy aims toward which they are striving.
DEDICATION

We, the Class of 1935, dedicate this fifteenth volume of the Iris to the teachers and those people of the United States who have made possible the three hundred years of secondary education in this country. In addition, we wish to dedicate this volume of the Iris to the teachers of the Highland Public School who have helped make possible our education and the education of preceding generations.
APPRECIATION

The senior class wishes to give special recognition to the entire faculty, the Board of Education, and especially those members of the faculty who have, during the past four years, guided us through the realms of knowledge. We also wish to thank those teachers who have spent so much of their time and effort in serving as our class sponsors.

BOOK IV ADVERTISEMENTS
This year the seniors of Highland High School, as all seniors, have been confronted with one of the most serious decisions of life. They have faced the task of choosing a career, vocation, or occupation which is to become their life work. With the realization that they would soon graduate came the sudden realization that they were growing up; that their parents would not feed and clothe them forever; and that they must decide how they are most fitted to support themselves and to become useful.

Some may choose to become teachers and carry on the noble work of preparing youth for life. Others may choose to become judges or lawyers. Still others may wish to become ministers—bringing the word of God to the people, or doctors—safeguarding the health of the people. Those who choose these professions will naturally have to continue going to school to advance their education.
ADMINISTRATION

CAREERS
The students of Highland High School are greatly indebted to the Board of Education for their deep interest in school affairs and their willing attitude to cooperate in all school functions.

They have completed many worthwhile projects during the past year, their foremost aims being to raise the standing of Highland High School and to make work and play more pleasant for student and instructor.

The entire student body was saddened last February by the sudden death of Mr. C. F. Rawson, who had served long and ably as Secretary of the Board.

The students of Highland High School sincerely appreciate the efforts and accomplishments of the Board in behalf of the students' interests and hope for its future success as the primary administrative body of the school.

We hope that the time, patience and consideration that the Board has given to their public trust are manifested by the activities of the school and in the type of young manhood and womanhood which our community is training.
The hours we spend in school and school activities prove to be the happiest and most important in our life. As we near the end of this period we begin to realize their importance and the things which they have meant to us.

The Highland School, within whose brick walls we have spent these hours, has amply served its purpose during the forty years of its existence. Next year this building is to be replaced by a modern, combined grade and high school.

We are quite sure that succeeding classes will profit by and admire the excellent opportunities offered by the new school.

We are as proud to be the last to graduate from this aged school building as our ancestors were to be the first.

Besides being an instructor and sponsor, Mr. Ewing takes his place as every student's chief advisor. Through him the student body has realized the value and necessity of planning a life's career while still in high school.

He has set up for us high ideals and has employed every possible means to raise the standards of scholarship in high school.

It is with deep sincerity that we express our gratification for his countless hours of effort and energy spent in promoting worthwhile projects and in elevating Highland High School to its present position among the high schools of the North Central Association.
HIGH SCHOOL FACULTY

The members of the high school faculty are to be commended for their genuine cooperation and supervision. Each has been deeply and sincerely interested in the well-being and success of the students.

The members of the high school faculty build on the rudiments established by the grade school faculty and seek to insure the more perfect citizen by enriching the cultural life of the students, by providing for a better use of leisure time, by creating a more wholesome attitude toward life, and by directing the interests and intellectual curiosities of the students.

The students are ever grateful for the help and profitable suggestions that the faculty has to offer at all times; they regard their instructors as their guides and examples during their four years of high school training.

GRADE SCHOOL FACULTY

The grade school faculty works in close coordination with the high school faculty. The same high standards are required of the teachers of the grade school as of the high school instructors.

The two faculties are combined into one large administrative unit, each member doing his part to further education to a higher degree.

Two-thirds of a child's school life in Highland is spent under the supervision of this competent faculty which aims to provide a firm foundation upon which to build a constructive four years of secondary education.

Every normal boy and girl is eager to take hold, to feel the joy of profitable effort. Even though some people are not obliged to earn their living, we will agree with Dean Davenport that "every man is a better man if he feels the power to earn his way, whether he needs to do it or not." They see the industrious and the efficient doing things and reaping their reward, and choose to do likewise.

Probably many of the girls will marry and raise another generation to carry on the world. There are those who wish to become bankers and keep our huge financial system running. There are others who will take their places in the factories, lumber mills, coal mines, and shipping yards. The glamour of the army and the navy will entice others. Still others will enter the field of politics and perhaps one will become a great national leader.

In 1931, forty eight freshmen entered Highland High School. We chose as our officers: Lynette Meloy, President; Harry Zeller, Vice President; Evelyn Jenny, Secretary; and Lu Verne Aldridge, Treasurer. Miss Wenger acted as our sponsor. Our only activity was a wiener roast held at our sponsor's home. As typical freshmen we had a good time and did not seriously regard our lessons.

When thirty seven of us returned as Sophomores, we began to contemplate our education more seriously. Our officers were Lu Verne Aldridge, President; Harry Zeller, Vice President; Russel Stocker, Secretary and Treasurer. Our freshman sponsor, Miss Wenger, and Mr. Herrmeyer acted as our sponsors. There were no outstanding activities during this year.
Thirty six members returned for the junior year, which was a very busy one for our class. Our officers were Harry Zeller, President; Pauline Schmidt, Vice-President; and Verne Wehrle, Secretary and Treasurer. Miss Drew acted as our sponsor. Our first activity as a class was a hike to the waterworks, which was enjoyed by all. The first all-high-school activity that our class sponsored was a box social in November. This was quite a novelty, and was highly successful. We sponsored a band concert that was also a success. Our class play, “Here Comes Patricia,” was directed by our sponsor Miss Drew. It was presented at the Opera House on December 15, and was well attended. In February, a second party was sponsored by our class in the form of a kid party. It proved enjoyable to the entire student body. A permanent addition to our high school was made in the form of the new Lost and Found Department begun by our class. The last event, and probably the most important, was the Junior-Senior Banquet, at which we entertained the class of ’34. It was held at the Temple and was a very impressive affair. The theme in decorating was a Chinese atmosphere. The color scheme we followed was the senior class colors, purple and gold. Speeches were given that followed the Chinese theme, and everyone seemed to adapt themselves to the spirit which the occasion demanded. The tables were lighted with candles, and the food was served by members of the sophomore class, who were garbed for the occasion in Chinese costumes.

Fifty six members composed our class in the senior year. Our first activity was a get-together party, which was supposed to be a wiener roast, but ended up in the home ec. rooms due to rain. Another successful box social was sponsored by our class in November. On January 25, senior class play, “Anybody’s Game” was given at the Opera House. It was quite a success, and was attended by a full house. The last few months were spent in working on the Iris and getting ready for our commencement.

We are looking forward to our graduation with eager, yet sorrowful hearts, for we realize that our schooldays 'neath “the Red and the Black” will soon come to an end. We hope that our ideals will be higher and that we will be better fitted for the lives which lie before us, so that when we take our place as citizens we will be regarded by others as a credit to Highland High School.—G. B.
 OUR SCHOOL

Miss Bernice Mueller, the school's secretary, is our general aid-de-camp. For the past several years, she has become a great friend to both the students and the faculty.

It is with much admiration that we remember her pleasing disposition, and we are deeply indebted to her for her many efforts to be of assistance in every possible way to everyone.

The hours we spent in school and school activities prove to be the happiest and most important in our lives. As we near the end of this period of securing knowledge, we just begin to realize the importance of these school affairs, and how much they have meant to us.

The Highland High School, within whose brick walls we have spent thes happy hours has amply served its purpose during the forty years of its existence. Next year this building is to be replaced by a modern combined grade and high school. We are quite sure that succeeding classes will profit by and admire the excellent opportunities offered by the new school, and we are as proud to be the last graduates from this aged school building as our grandparents were to be the first.

When the present juniors were freshmen, there were forty-two members. We elected the following officers: Roger Shields, President; Eldo Duft, Vice-president; Bernell Bircher, Secretary; and Alfred Dubach, Treasurer. Miss Drew and Mr. Geuther were our sponsors. During our first year we took a hike to Sam Hug's lake for a wiener roast.

Second Row: Ambuchl, Landert, Iberg, Frutiger, Baumann, Everett, Schmidt, Schultz, Stocker, Flure, McNabb.

Thirty-six of the forty-two freshmen returned for their sophomore year. The following officers were elected: Virgil Iberg, President; Eldo Duft, Vice-president; and Minette Fowler, Secretary-treasurer. Miss Suess was our class sponsor.

There are twenty-nine members of the junior class. We elected Levi Flure, President; Alfred Dubach, Vice-president; and Leonard Pfeiffer, Secretary-treasurer. Every Friday we have a home room period. We have class meetings and educational activities, including talks, games and educational pictures. During the year we sponsored "The Last Gentleman," a picture at the Opera House, and "Oh! Susan," the junior class play.

After spending three years in high school we are fully aware of what it is all about and will strive faithfully to reach our goal next year. Our class sponsors this year were Miss Suess and Mr. Fearhelley.

"To the Stars through Bolts and Bars"

Our class this year consisted of thirty-nine members. At the opening of school the following officers were chosen: Marion Alch, president; Clyde Isert, vice-president; Dorothy Ellen Draper, secretary-treasurer.

We started the school's social functions by giving an all-high school Hallowe'en party. At the high school carnival, which was given for the benefit of the Boys' Athletic Association, the sophomores produced the feature known as the "Big Broadcast." At this carnival, Dorothy Ellen Draper, our representative, was elected queen.

Every Friday we had a home room period of thirty minutes. Various committees provided the programs for these meetings. These occasions produced a spirit of unity among us.

In sharp contrast to these happenings was the following of deep sadness which we experienced at the death of one of our classmates, Wilbur Leduc. He has been greatly missed by all of us.

It is our hope that we may all meet again next September as Juniors, and that we will be thoroughly conscious of the responsibilities which this coming year of our school life is sure to bring forth.

The freshman class held a wiener roast on September 21, but the party was held indoors due to a heavy rain.

On February 1, an all-high school party was given by the class. The party was very successful in every way.

The business of the class is ably conducted by the officers at the weekly class meetings. Programs of wide diversity are given by the class members, sponsors, and others. Mr. Ewing spoke to the class on "Choosing A Vocation or Career"; Miss Foster on "Citizenship," and Mr. Yates on "Washington, D. C. and Mt. Vernon."
BOOK THREE

One hundred years ago the boy knew practically all trades. He would watch the blacksmith, the weaver, the tradesman, and the baker in order to understand all the "tricks of the trade." It was easy for him to choose wisely. Today our industrial system has become very complicated. Today men do not do things; they do one thing or perhaps only part of one thing. Consequently, it has become both difficult and bewildering to choose and feel that one is choosing wisely.

By entering into some of the extra curricular activities of our school, some become familiar with certain pursuits which motivate their life work. Perhaps some will leave our glee clubs, go on with the training they received, and become great artists. Perhaps some will leave our band for a position in a symphony orchestra; others from the F. F. A. may become famous scientific farmers. Our plays may decide someone for a theatrical career; and the home economics courses have trained girls to become good mothers and homemakers.

Athletics will always play a significant role in the proper use of leisure time. Wholesome values may be derived from participating in athletics actively or as a spectator. There is an ever widening opportunity for men and women to earn a livelihood from their athletic abilities.
ACTIVITIES

Highland High School opened its fifth season of football by playing Mt. Olive High School on September 30. Our team did not show much offensive power but was good on defense. The result was a 2-0 victory in favor of Mt. Olive.

Coach Davis then put the team through two weeks of hard and intensive training preparing for the October 13 game with Dupo. The fine offensive attack displayed by the greatly improved and much stronger team gave Highland its first victory of the season. The score was Dupo 6, Highland 18.

On Saturday, October 20, the team encountered a stronger foe and was defeated by Marquette, 33 to 0.

On the next Saturday afternoon, October 27, the team played a somewhat inspired game for a half, against Cathedral High School of Belleville, but weakened in the second half. The final score was Belleville 24, Highland 3.

On Friday, November 2, the team made a long trip to White Hall and won, 6-0.

On November 10, the Highland High boys played their last game of the season. Several of our players were seniors and were making their last appearance for Highland High. We lost to a strong Carlyle team, 34-0.

Mr. Davis has coached our football squad for the past three years. Every student in Highland High School greatly admires his splendid work in building up the athletics of the school and the wonderful enthusiasm he has instilled into the players.

Besides setting up goals and ideals to work for in football, Mr. Davis is to be commended for his staunch stand on fair play and true sportsmanship in all school activities at all times.
Basketball

Coach White inaugurated the official 1934-35 basketball season on Nov. 12, by issuing a call for recruits to that great sport. Of the twenty men who responded at the start of the season, the following were selected for the first team: Loyet, Earnhart, L. Alldridge, Keilbach, Bircher, E. Duft, Alch, Lory, and Dubach.

Horace Loyet, a senior, captained the basketball team this year. Horace is a good, dependable player on both offense and defense. Whenever the score was tied or close, it was usually Horace who came through and flipped the ball through the basket for a win or a tie, or a starting rally.

Paul Earnhart carried off top honors for individual points scored and for fouls committed. He had a grand total of 159 points and 52 fouls.

The past season has not been an excellent one, but the boys tried their best to make it so. In the National Trail Conference, Highland won one-third of its games. In the three tournaments in which Highland participated, they won their first game each time, but lost to stronger teams in the second round of play. Highland went to two invitational tournaments, one at Mascoutah, and one at Troy, and to the District Tournament at Wood River.

In the annual city game between Highland High School and St. Paul, Highland still kept its record clean by defeating them 31-17.

Many of us do not stop to realize how much we are indebted to Mr. White, who fills the responsible position of high school principal.

Mr. White also teaches science, and coaches the basketball and track teams. His influence in the classroom and on the athletic field is responsible for our high standard of sportsmanship.

Highland had but one track meet in 1933-'34. The National Trail Athletic League meet was held here Saturday, April 28, 1934. Schools entered were the members of the League: Livingston, St. Jacob, Mulberry Grove, Troy, Pocahontas, and Highland. Venice, the other member, was not represented.

Several new records were set: Decrevel broke the tape in 880 yard run in 2:14.6 minutes. Komanecy of Livingston ran the 120 yard high hurdle for a new record of 20.7 seconds. Komanecy also broke his own record in the high jump with a leap of 5 feet 7 inches.

Highland won the 880 relay for the third consecutive time. Alldridge, Schmidt, Ambuehl, and Decrevel composed the team.

Livingston won with a total of 48 1/2 points to Highland's 21 5/6 points. St. Jacob was third with 21 points; Mulberry Grove, fourth with 12 5/6 points; Troy, fifth with 9 points; and Pocahontas sixth with 3 points.

Edwardsville held an invitational relay meet on April 20. Two relay teams were entered. The junior relay team looked promising, although they did not win.

Alldridge went as far as the finals in the 100 yds. but failed to place in the final of this event.

This year's National Trail meet took place at Livingston on May 4th. Livingston won the meet by a large margin. They also won the 880 yd. relay. Highland placed third by placing 2nd in the relay.

The points were as follows: Livingston 68, Pocahontas 20, Highland 11, Troy 10, Venice 10, and Mulberry Grove 9.

We did not enter the district meet this year.
GIRLS ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Girl's Athletic Association was introduced in our school four years ago and has proved to be very popular. Under the leadership of Miss Frances Peterson, who has been ably assisted by Miss Welch, the association has progressed rapidly. This year we elected Verna Wehrle as our president; Drucilla Pyle, vice president; Dorothy Ellen Draper, secretary; and Jane Steiner, treasurer.

Each month a meeting is held in the Home Economics' room. After the business had been transacted, the meeting is turned over to the entertainment committee who provide amusement and refreshments.

In order to become an official member of the G. A. A. each girl has to earn one hundred points. These points may be earned by keeping health rules, participating in unorganized activities and organized activities, and by having examinations made by doctors. Hiking, folk dancing, volley ball, and baseball were offered. If any girl participates in at least two of these activities for one hour each, every week, she is excused from the regular gymnasium class. When the girls have earned their one hundred points, they are initiated by the old members. In January, twelve new members were initiated.

The G. A. A. sponsored a very successful George Washington party for the entire high school. The girls also gave a wiener roast for the eighth grade girls in the spring.

Next year we are looking forward to an even bigger and better organization than we have had before.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

All girls who have had at least one year of Home Economics are eligible to membership in the Home Economics Club which was organized during September of this school year for the first time.

At the organization meeting the following officers were elected: President, Linette Meloy; Vice President, Frankie Welmer; Secretary, Beatrice Paul; Treasurer, Bernice Schwehr. Delores Klaus served as Treasurer during the second semester. Miss Drew was our faculty adviser.

A constitution was written by a committee and approved by the club. "Heime Machers" was chosen as our official name.

Regular meetings were held the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month in the Home Economics Department.

The purpose of the club is to promote interest in Home Economics and to teach the girls to be better home makers by furthering their interests in home economics.

In November Miss Drew, with two of the girls, Linette Meloy and Delores Klaus attended the State Conference of Home Economics clubs held at Springfield. They brought back many beneficial and interesting ideas.

Our chief accomplishment was helping the P. T. A. mothers serve the hot lunch during the winter months. Later in the year, under the guidance and supervision of Miss Drew, the girls took full responsibility of the lunch room.

We are looking forward to the club developing into a bigger and better organization next year.
BAND

The Highland High School Band, of which we are justly proud, entered its fourth year with high hopes. It was organized under the leadership of George Raffaelli in 1931. In the district band contest at Hillsboro, in 1932, our band took first place in class D. This class was composed of schools having had a band less than one year.

In 1933 the band competed in the district contest at Collinsville in class C. Highland finished in second division.

The next year, the band went to the district contest at Belleville and tied with Roodhouse for first place. This victory entitled them to go on to the state contest at Champaign, where they were placed in the second division.

This year the band has given three concerts in Highland; they played at the basketball tournament at Woodrider, and at the Edwardsville Band Carnival. They added to the pep and enthusiasm of the students by playing for the basketball and football games. The Band took part in the Music Festival at Washington University, and they played in Highland for the Hospital Day.

Drum Major: Horace Loyet.

On April 12, 1935, our band participated in the district contest at Edwardsville. The band finished in first division. Our soloists were grouped as follows: Dwight Lory, first; Bernice Hug, first; Marion Aleh, second; Evelyn Jenny, first; and Blanche Paul, first.

The band went to Champaign on May 3, to compete in the State Contest. They finished in second division. The soloists finished as follows: Dwight Lory, second; Bernice Hug, third; Evelyn Jenny, second; and Blanche Paul, second.

The band is no longer a group of beginners, but rather an organization of accomplished musicians. Through the splendid cooperation of the community as a whole, the band should go far next year as one of the outstanding organizations of the school.

The following members have graduated from the band since it started:
1932—Henry Potts, Willis Draper, and Alfred Siever,
1933—Leonhard Stoecklin, Clarence Koch, Wilson Boulanger, Edward Everett, and Alfred Siegrist.
1934—Harold Von Rohr, Stuart Drum, Sumner Michael, Raymond Schneider, and Jerome Long, Neva Hug.
Our choruses this year include forty-eight of our students. These students worked in three groups: boys', girls', and mixed choruses. They appeared on programs for various social events during the year, and gained a repertoire of twenty songs.

The choruses assisted the band in their series of concerts during this year. The High School Choruses with the members of the Parent Teachers' Association Chorus presented two performances of the Christmas Cantata, "Chimes of the Holy Night."

At a Sub-District Contest of the Illinois Music and Literary Association held at Carlyle on March 16, our school was represented by the three choruses and four soloists: Marion Alch, LuVerne Aldridge, Blanche Paul, and Beatrice Paul. Our mixed chorus, girls' chorus, and tenor soloist placed first. Our boys' chorus placed second and our contralto soloist, Blanche Paul, third. As a result, our choruses and winning soloist entered the District Contest held at Carbondale, on April 5 and 6. The mixed chorus and girls' chorus, and boys' chorus were all placed in the first group, and Marion Alch finished in second division.

Highland High School was represented by the Band and Choruses at a Music Festival at Washington University on April 25 and 26. The girls' chorus and mixed chorus finished in second division, and Marion Alch was placed in second division. Our boys' chorus was not entered at this festival.

On May 4, our mixed chorus and girls' chorus entered the State Contest at Normal. They were awarded second division honors.

It has been through the excellent direction of Miss Peterson and fine cooperation of the community that our choruses have made such wonderful progress. By the efforts of all concerned, this success should continue to grow in the years to come, and make our choruses an outstanding organization of Highland High School.
IRIS STAFF

The Iris staff has tried to give our subscribers a yearbook that will be both interesting and beneficial to all. In order to accomplish our purpose we have included within our annual a record of the most outstanding events of the year, in both pictures and editorials; we have given recognition not only to present students and faculty members, but also to every graduate by including within our yearbook an alumni section dating back to the first high school graduating class of 1896.

Front Row: Meloy, Schmidt, Baer, Clementz, Papp, Noll, Kempff, Jenny, Miss Drew.

The Iris staff wishes to express its deepest appreciation for the cooperation of Miss Helen Drew, Principal J. J. White and Superintendent P. L. Ewing for their invaluable assistance in the publishing of our annual.

Our Iris is a memory book which will call to mind in later years the pleasant events and recollections of our high school days.

We feel greatly indebted to the business and professional people of Highland for the support they have given our yearbook. They are an asset to our thriving community. When we take our places in the world, may we possess the same spirit of cooperation.
FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

At the beginning of the school year the F .F. A. officers were chosen. Glen Baumann was elected president; Dean Decrevel, vice president; Richard Liebler, secretary; Burnell Casper, treasurer; and Harold Baumann, reporter. Mr. Geuther served us as advisor until he left to take a position in the Soil Erosion Department of the Civilian Conservation Corps of the U. S. Government. The vacancy left by Mr. Geuther's departure was filled by Mr. Simerl who has served us exceedingly well in the capacity of advisor.

Top Row: Casper, Metzger, Mewes, Frutiger, LeDuc, Landert, McNabb, W. Mewes, Mr. Geuther

The F. F. A. has been very active during the past year. Last May our Indoor Ball team was defeated by Carlyle. Meetings of our organization continued throughout the summer months. In the course of the school year, the Agriculture classes have made trips to farms and other places of interest; namely, the National Stock Yards and the Metropolitan Police Station of St. Louis. The F. F. A. participated in several contests, such as judging contests and showing projects; it has been the winner of several prizes. Last year one of the outstanding events of the season was the F. F. A. banquet for the parents of the members.

The Highland Chapter of the Future Farmers of America is part of a national organization of boys studying vocational agriculture. There are three grades of members: Green Hands, Future Farmers, State Farmers, and American Farmers.
ANYBODY'S GAME

When Jimmy Craig wanders into the office of the Delaney Advertising Agency, he is out of a job and trying to sell a few pairs of Aviation Hosiery. Who should he find behind the office switchboard but Peggy Blake, his childhood sweetheart. She feels sorry for him and gets him a job by telling the Big Boss that he doesn't know anything about the advertising business, but every time he opens his mouth he makes a dumb break that turns out to be an A-1 selling idea. Things are looking rosy except for Lulu Corliss, the Office Pest. Once she gets hold of a man she never lets go. Poor Jimmy gets roped into entering a dance contest with her, but that's only the opening wedge. Before he knows it, Lulu tells him they are engaged. She thoughtfully tells every one else, too. From then on business and romance are all tangled up in a joyous snarl of complications. Finally, Lulu gets stung—plenty—and the curtain comes down on a grand, happy ending climax.

Mr. Tyler .................................................. Richard Liebler
Maude Perkins ......................................... Dolores Hirsch
Peggy Blake .............................................. Pauline Schmidt
Eddie ............................................................... Dean Decrevel
Helen Martin ............................................. Esther Casper
Lulu Corliss .............................................. Dorothy Kempff
Edward Delaney ........................................ Lu Verne Aldridge
William Cassidy ....................................... Earl Geiger
Jimmy Craig ............................................ Russell Stocker
Sidney Lewis ............................................ Harry Zeller
Laura Hale ............................................... Linette Meloy
Dennis Gibbs ............................................ Alvin Beinecke
Sebastian Palukas .................................... Frederick Koch
Fritz Klinghopper ...................................... George Schuette
Mrs. Allison Simmons ................................ Irma Clementz
Greta Swinberg ......................................... Dorothy Virgin

This play was successfully presented January 25, 1935. The high school orchestra furnished the music. Miss Drew directed the play.

Katherine Kavanaugh's delightful four-act comedy "Oh! Susan!" was given at the Opera House by the junior class on Thursday, May 9. The play is concerned with the attempts of Janet Dalton, a rich young society lady, to ensnare Danvers Meredith, a handsome and wealthy young bachelor. Robbery, humor, wit, fun, dramatic tenseness, a well constructed plot, and plenty of action made this play quite successful.

Janet Dalton, who usually gets what she goes after ------------------------ Minette Fowler
Mrs. Marian Weatherby, Danvers' aunt, who plans not wisely but too well ___ Iola Rogier
Rose and Edith Parsons, two rosebuds in the garden of girls ___ Ellen Bardill, Marie Riggs
"Mame," who takes what she wants when she wants it ---------------------- Elaine Porter
"Lefty," a light-fingered young gentleman ------------------------------- Orville Landert
"The Old Soak," the proud father of these two --------------------------- Alfred Dubach
Jason, who loves and serves the Merediths -------------------------------- Virgil Iberg
Mrs. Hawkes, who loves and admires and serves the Merediths ________ Marian Lebegue

The play was coached by Mr. Yates, the English teacher.

IN MEMORIAM

WILBUR P. LEDUC

Wilbur P. Leduc was born in Lee Township, on November 8, 1913. Wilbur's life was spent with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Leduc, in this vicinity.

After attending Tontz school, Wilbur entered Highland High School where he was a student for two years. His chief interest was in agriculture. As an active member of the F. F. A. (Future Farmers of America), the high school glee club, and the sophomore class, Wilbur was regarded as a boy who did his part ably and well.

Wilbur became sick about a week before his death. He was admitted to the St. Joseph's Hospital where, on Wednesday, December 15, 1934, he died. Funeral services were held Saturday, December 15, 1934.

Wilbur was regarded by his teachers and classmates as worthy of the high esteem accorded him. His passing is one of regret for his friends, companions, and teachers.

Many men think they have chosen their permanent occupation, only to learn in middle life that it has meant disappointment and failure. Just because some older person says there is nothing like being a barber or selling land, there is no reason to rush into such an occupation. "The situation sifts down to this: energizing work is decreasing; enervating work is increasing. Yet it is fundamental that mankind must do stimulating work or retrogress," says Herman Schneider. We must choose something productive and useful.

Some of us will enter the business world to become secretaries or business executives. Others will probably become salesmen or work in some department of a huge business concern. Perhaps some will produce an invention which will add to the comfort of life, to better production, and the advancement of our civilization.

Our sincere wish is that the Class of '35 will all choose their life's work wisely, and that they will live happy and successful lives.
