Foreword

The class of 1942 has attempted to produce an Iris that will, in years to come, be a worthy reminder of our class to the citizens of Highland and the students of Highland High. By a process known as planographing, the cost of the Iris has been sufficiently lowered so that soliciting advertising has been eliminated.

We wish to thank everyone who has helped in the production of this Iris and sincerely hope that it is a complete success.

The credit of success of this publication is to be given to those members of the senior class as well as underclassmen, who have contributed their time and effort to its completion.
This Iris has been appropriately dedicated to the men in service, especially those who are graduates of Highland High School. Many are already serving their country in service abroad and others, now in camps scattered all over the country, expect to see action in the future.

We have selected the Army, Navy, and Marines, three branches of the service, as symbolic of the life and liberty for which they are fighting.

Through this dedication we are able to show our appreciation for the things they have done and will do.
The students of Highland High School wish to honor here the memory of Mr. Victor Koch, who, at the time of his death in September, was a member of the Board of Education. "His memory lasts and he shall live as long as we."
Iris Starr would like to pay tribute to Mr. Joseph J. White, formerly the Highland High School Principal, who left for active duty in the Navy on March 30, 1942. He has been given the rank of first-class seaman in the Medical Corp. Mr. White was the senior class sponsor along with Mr. P. L. Ewing. He has spent the last 13 years teaching science subjects and guiding the students of Highland High School in their quest for further knowledge.

Prophecy

Just for fun we'll take a trip and see what the class of '42 will be doing ten years hence. Glancing at a signboard as we leave Highland we see Anna Bailey making millions as a model, with Ethel Knebel as her stand in. Traveling on we stop at Indianapolis to witness the famous annual Speedway Race and on looking over the entry list we find that "Burn-'Em-Up" Ernst and "One-Track" Kleiner are competing in their newly completed ultra-stream-lined sensation, the Green Streak. We are sorry to see the boys come in last but have no time to offer our sympathy. Moving on to Cincinnati we find Charles Herzberg the president of Jerque-a-cola, astounded to find his veteran sampler, Irvin Holtkoetter, musing quietly under the spout of a cask of well aged cola. Moving east we stop at Pittsburgh just long enough to see Janet Haley, Mabel Yann, Cecelia Horn, and Betty Spellerberg working in defense plants in place of their husbands who are now in the army. The girls are all well and doing a fine job.

At last the metropolis of New York is in sight. As we pass through the Bronx on our way down town we find Marian Weffert, Jean Lee, and Kathryn Winet doing a good job of housekeeping.

As we pass through the great city we find at the Metropolitan none other than Carol Baumann - second balcony, Section 8, Row B, Seat 5. Stopping at the Ritz, we see two familiar faces peeping out of the kitchen. Looking more closely we find it to be Milton Gilomen, the chef, and Harvey Hunziker who is in charge of roast duck and duck soup.

We exit from the Ritz in a mild rainstorm and down the street walks Betty Ann Launer. She enjoys "de wind and de wain" in her hair. Just as we pass Betty we see a small light in the window and there sits Virginia Werner who tells us she is now knitting for the Red Cross. Since it is raining we had to take a taxi and who is the driver - none other than Kenneth Williman now charging for his passengers.

We decide to stay at the New Yorker for the evening to relax. On opening the evening paper we behold the magnificent physique of the present Mr. America, Elmer Fellhauer, now posing in place of Charles Atlas. As we scan the magazine section we see articles by Anna Lee Fowler on "How to Keep that Trim Figure", and "Advice to the Lovelorn" by Ellen Zobrist. Tiring of the paper we turn on the radio to hear Wilbur Stein taking off in a hot riff of Boogie Woogi, while Edith Steiner takes a vocal.

Entering Madison Square Garden one evening we find Urban Donnelly and Calvin Lebegue, grunt and groan experts, featured on the evening's wrestling card.

On our return trip through the north western states we accidently turn on our radio and with a flip of the wrist we discover station BLAH which is presenting the Chicago Round Table featuring Harvey Jakel, consultant on current events, Ray Good, farm expert, Betty Kayser, Home Economics expert, and Oscar Levant. This program is sponsored by Smilin Hairless Joe Preston, the manufacturer of Preston Wonder Mops, the mop with the curl that gets those corners clean.

Coming closer to home we find Tony Lang is taking Johnny Weismuller's place as Tarzan. He broke both arms trying to swim with his water wings and three ribs beating on his chest.

At Springfield we see a convention of "Back to the Farm League" reunites Anthony Stock, Irvin Niggli, Calvin Metzger, and Felton Schmidt. As we browse around the lobby of our hotel we see Harry Mueller, the house detective, who is writing a book entitled "Murder at 1313 Dracula Drive or He Was Drilled Before He Was Drafted". Another book appearing on the market at the time was "We Did it the Hard Way When We Were Young or How to Win Friends and Influence Teachers" by Jack Hug.

At Peoria we find that Marie Raeber is still working in a Defense industry making hooks, and Roberta Partridge is teaching a nursery school.

In Marine Boilah Herrington, Eileen Hoffman and Marian Schneider are owners of a millinery shop and they tell us that Mae Bloemker, LeVerne Mugler and Jeanette Weber are the successful proprietors of a chicken farm. They also tell us that Delores Cramer and Doria Isert are hostesses at the largest army camp in America.

Finally we arrive home safely to hear the astounding news that Charles Hoffman has taken over the Jamestown bowling alleys where Douglas Abendroth has found a heaven on earth, spotting pins for La Monte Gruenig who is still rolling gutter balls.

Flash: Kenneth Michael, the "Glamour Boy", still hasn't made up his mind.

HISTORY

Our class, as freshmen, began the year with the largest number of students of any of the four classes. We started out like a whirlwind, having made more progress than the average freshmen groups. We gave a watermelon feed, a Halloween party, and a Valentine dance. All were for freshmen only, and each was very successful.

As sophomores, we proved our worth beyond a doubt by having the most students on the honor roll by a large majority. Our sophomore class party has been given the distinction of being the most successful party ever given by a sophomore class. Besides having one hundred and twenty-three students attending it, it was unique and very successful in every respect. It was a backwards party. The girls brought the boys and everyone dressed backwards. Since then this has been considered an annual event. We also gave a sleighing party. An Easter Egg Hunt combined with a weiner roast was the outstanding event of the spring. We also tried to take a bicycle trip to Breese, but some of the less ambitious sophomores only got to Trenton.

As juniors, we accomplished a number of outstanding things. The most outstanding events were the Junior Play and the Junior-Senior Banquet. The play was entirely different from anything that was ever given, being of the 1890 "mellardrammar" type, old style costumes and everything. "Bertha, the Beautiful Typewriter Girl," one of the most outstanding plays of Highland High School. The banquet was equally unique. It was based on the Indian theme. The gymnasium was lit by three electric fires. The whole thing was very effective and was long remembered by everyone that attended.

Then as seniors, we equaled or even excelled other classes with our industry. The class still held its high position on the honor roll. Of the fifty-three members, none are a discredit to the class. The class always had good teamwork, everyone doing his share. The play, "The High School Mystery," was one of the most talked of events of the year. It, too, was a different type of play. None of its kind was ever given on our stage before. It was under the able direction of Mr. Harry Bell. It was certainly a credit to the class.

We can say with much pride that the senior class of '42 will be remembered and that all of its members will go far and be successful. We are confident that they will make a success of anything they attempt.

HISTORY

The present junior class of Highland High School started its high school career with fifty-three members, sponsored by Mr. Homann. Like any other class it was green and fresh and was prepared to give four years of aggravation to the teachers. The class gave two parties and was well represented in sports, band, and other activities.

The sophomore year was even more illustrious than the freshman year for this class. Now sophomores, everyone knew the ropes and felt at home. During this year two parties were given. One of them was the well-known Christmas party. The class started this year with forty-three members and lost only two members during the course of the year. The sponsor this year was Charles Dintleman, who is now principal of the high school in Fulton, Illinois.

The junior year is always considered the year that the class gets closest to the seniors. This year the acting ability was tested and found to be very good as the Junior Class Play was a huge success being directed by Miss V. Wildi. The Junior-Senior banquet was again a tremendous success this year. The theme of the event was based on patriotism. This year the class was well represented in sports, receiving five basketball letters as well as four football letters. At the close of the junior year there were thirty-eight members in the class.

Entering the senior year the class of '43 hopes to maintain or better records in scholastics, athletics, and other extracurricular activities.

HISTORY

The sophomore class of this year started their first year at Highland High School with sixty-one members. The outstanding event of the year was an all-school Valentine party given on February 14. They had an enormous turnout; over seventy-five per cent of the students attending. They also had a freshman chili supper in October. The activities of the year were concluded with a freshman hike.

The sophomore class of 1941-42 numbered fifty-eight in September of 1941. The class was well represented in sports, band, glee club and other activities. The one party given this year was a Christmas party, complete with Santa Claus and presents. A quiz program given in assembly was also sponsored by the sophomores. Mr. Loudon, the class sponsor, did much to encourage the class and gave some very helpful suggestions.

The class deemed it necessary to adopt a constitution whereby all questions of importance were settled. The adoption of this constitution illustrates the progressiveness of the class.

HISTORY

The freshman class numbered forty-six at the beginning of the term. Since that time six members have dropped out. The members of the class took part in the band, glee club, gave parties, took part in basketball games and other school activities with a great deal of enthusiasm.

Throughout the year we sponsored several assemblies and parties. Our first party was a freshman get-together, held on October 10, which was a tremendous success and was long remembered by the class. On February 13, we gave an all school Valentine party, and on May 8 the freshman class had a combination bicycle hike and wiener roast at the City Lake. All these were well attended by the freshman class and the other high school classes.

As you can see by the record we have made during our brief year in high school, our class is destined to be one of those long remembered classes of Highland High School. We have already done much and we sincerely plan to do much more. We are confident that our senior year will do any school justice and bring pride into the hearts of our teachers.

FOOTBALL

This year our football team came through with a very successful season, winning three games and losing only one. Probably the most hard-fought game of the season was the last game with Venice in which the Bulldogs emerged victors by one point.

Captain Lang was the mainstay of the team and did most of the ball handling. The starting line-up consisted of four seniors, four juniors, two sophomores, and one freshman.

WRESTLING

In addition to the regular matches of the season, several of the boys on the wrestling team took part in sectional and State tournaments.

Six members of the wrestling team went to Granite City for the tournament this year and returned with three awards. Harry Mueller received a second place in the 135 pound class; Kenneth Williman received third in the 105 pound class and Elmer Fellhauer fourth in the 145 pound class. Mueller went to the State tournament, but lost his first match there.

BASKETBALL

The basketball team had a fairly successful season this year and much interest was taken in the sport. Captain Lang was the only one of last year's first team playing again, and therefore this year's team had little experience. However, the team worked well together and played some very fine basketball.

In the regional tournament held at Highland, the Bulldogs were pitted against Collinsville and defeated and Collinsville went on to win the tournament.

The men who saw most of the action on the first team were Lang, Michael, Holtkoetter, Gindler, Siegrist, and Werner while Stuckwisch and Blattner filled in very capably as reserves. Only three out of the first ten are graduating this year, so next year's prospects are very promising.

BAND

The Highland High School Band of 1941-42 was composed of 47 members and was under the able direction of Mr. Harold Smith. The band still has the excellent instrumentation it has had in past years and has come up to the best of expectations. The band proved its worth by participating in many important events throughout the year. Besides playing for various programs and concerts, the band played for several basketball games. From the band a brass quintet, a brass sextet, and a clarinet quartet came forth to honor further the band. They all went to the district solo and ensemble contest. The brass sextet, composed of Jane Holliger, James Gindler, Gladys Abendroth, Douglas Abendroth, Morris Tschannen, and Calvin Blattner, received a first division rating at the contest. The clarinet quartet, composed of Jack Hug, James Willig, James Partridge, and Marilyn Ewing, also received a first rating. The brass quintet was not so fortunate, but also received a worthy rating of second division. The clarinet quartet went on to the state ensemble contest to receive another first division.

GLEE CLUB

The 1941-1942 Highland High School Chorus was directed by Mr. Forrest Wilson until December 7, 1941, at which time he was forced to leave because of ill health. He did an excellent job of getting the glee club and a cappella choir into condition and directed the "H. M. S. Pinafore", the high school opera. Mr. Wilson's two and one half years of service were greatly appreciated by everyone and we sincerely hope that he will be strong enough to continue his work next year. Miss Bland, who is studying to be a hospital technician, came to the school's aid as a temporary vocal instructor. She and the glee club worked hard on the numbers for the Music Festival held at Collinsville. She is a very able teacher and much appreciated by everyone who comes in contact with her. She also worked up the numbers for the spring concert and the graduation exercises. Miss Bland has done very much for the music department and everyone will miss her next year. We all wish her much success in her chosen profession.

The two representatives who were sent to the All State Chorus at the University of Illinois were Carol Baumann and Jack Hug. They sang in a chorus of five hundred and seventy voices directed by the famous conductor, Nobel Cain.

GIRLS ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA
G. A. A.--- The Girl’s Athletic Association, organized for the purpose of maintaining high standards and to promote ideals of health and sportsmanship, has twenty-three members this year (with a majority of freshmen.)

Some of the sports in which the girls took part are: bowling, basketball, baseball, and hiking. By participating in these sports the girls earn points, and receive awards. They are given credit for skating, keeping health rules, walking, swimming etc. outside of their regular meeting periods.

They had four bowling teams this year, namely; Army, Navy, Air Corps, and First Aid. The highest game bowled this year was 240 made by Margaret Gross, a newcomer to this school.

Miss Jeanette Eymann was their sponsor for the first semester. Due to illness, she was replaced by Miss Bette Norton. The G. A. A. would like to thank their sponsors for all the help they have given them and for all the time they have spent with the organization. "Thank you Miss Eymann, and Miss Norton."

HOME EC. CLUB--- The Home Economics Club is an organization in which good fellowship is developed among the girls in the Home Ec. Departments. The club meets twice each month and puts into practice ideas which are useful in everyday life.

During these meetings the girls had a great deal of fun in participating in bicycle hikes, scavenger hunts, coasting and many other club activities. This year the club sent two members to the Home Ec. Camp at Bloomington where they spent many enjoyable hours with Home Ec. Girls from all over the state.

The club also motored to Edwardsville this year to attend a Rally Day. For their contribution to the program they gave a truth or consequence skit.

The entire club wishes to express its sincere thanks to Miss Harney for her excellent sponsorship and cooperation with all the club members.

F. F. A.--- The Highland Chapter of the Future Farmers of America has been a growing organization. From the twenty-two charter members of 1933, the club has now increased to an enrollment of thirty-six boys. In order to be an F. F. A. member a boy must be enrolled in Agriculture for at least one year, and must keep an interest in the organization.

This year has been another one of great accomplishments for all members of the club. Some of the educational activities this year have been trips to the Baby Beef Shows at the National Stockyards in Chicago, Illinois and a trip through the Swift Meat Packing Company. The F. F. A. was well represented at the Annual Black and White Show held at Lindendale Park.

Proceeds from their shows netted this club about $475 besides profits from their project program. From these many activities we feel that the F. F. A. members are holding up their motto: Learning to do. Doing to learn. Earning to live. Living to serve.
