The Class of 1944 respectfully dedicates this, the 1944 Iris, to Miss Claire Weber. Through her ability, diligence, and willingness, production of this year book was made possible. We also wish to express our appreciation to Miss Weber for her friendliness and whole-hearted spirit of cooperation toward the Class of '44 through its four years of High School. The memory of her pleasant smile and cheerful voice will long be retained by all.

CLASS OF 1944--History

The beginning of school in the year of '41 brought 61 eager and intelligent freshmen to the portals of H. H. S., to begin school with a feeling of awe that any "green freshie" experiences. It didn't take us long to become acquainted with the upper classmen. After having been made to feel at home, we set out to accomplish even greater things than any class had done before.

During the year we sponsored three social events. The outstanding one was an all-school Valentine party given on February 14. We had an enormous turnout; over seventy-five per cent of the students attending. We also gave a chili supper in October and concluded our activities for the year with a freshman hike.

One year later; fifty-eight students returned to carry on their good name. The class this year was well represented in sports, band, glee club, and other activities. The one party we gave that year was a Christmas party, complete with Santa Claus and presents. We also sponsored a quiz program for an assembly. Mr. Loudon, our class sponsor, did much to encourage our class and aided us with helpful suggestions. We also adopted a constitution whereby all questions of importance were settled. This act illustrates the progressiveness of our class.

As students grow up and progress through high school, they take more activities upon their shoulders and assume more leadership. We as juniors assumed that obligation and proved we could do it by the number of outstanding events. A scrap drive was held as a competitive race between all classes to see who could bring in the most scrap. The juniors participated enthusiastically, and came in second place. The school decided to have a student council with representatives from each class to act as the governing body and to take care of school problems. Shirley J. Mueller and Clinton Kerin were chosen to represent our class.

The next important event of our junior year was the class play given on March 12, 1945, and entitled, "Wings Over Washington." The cast put on a good performance and the play proved a great success. The most important event of the year was the junior-senior banquet. The theme was centered around the Gay Nineties complete with decorations, food, and a floor show. With the serving of our banquet and the end of the school year, we were reminded that we had only one more year to remain in the realms of high school.

Yes, this year we enjoyed a feeling of superiority as seniors. Our class again showed up with many achievements to its credit. Having a lust for dramatics, the class play "Out of the Frying Pan," was considered one of the greatest successes for many years.

Gene Houser and Estelle Dill were elected to the student council. On October 15, the class sponsored a pep meeting and dance, and on March 17 gave a party entitled "Crazy House." Many seniors participated in sports, in the publication of the school paper, the "Bulldog," and in many other activities.

The biggest job of the year has been the publication of our year book. We have tried to make it a publication that will be looked upon in years to come as a complete picture of our school life. The staff has undertaken all the duties and obligations connected with this task, and we hope our annual will be enjoyed by the school and its patrons.

The seniors were pleasantly entertained by the juniors at the annual junior-senior banquet, realizing the great amount of work put into it from our own experience. Our Class Day exercises gave us the thrill of appearing before the student body as the graduates of '44. Then came the Baccalaureate Service and Commencement. The thought makes us conscious of the fact that our school days in Highland High School are over.

PROPHECY

The graduation of the Class of '44 has aroused our curiosity, as to the way the marchers will be faring at the graduation of the Class of '54.

Under the able leadership of Mr. Waxler, we have devised a remarkable contrivance for the projection into the future. After laboring for quite some time on numerous knobs and buttons, we get a station clearly. The melodic strains of organ music overwhelm the static. We learn that the organist is none other than Jane Ulmet. The announcer again returns to inform us we are listening to the "Church of the Air." This Sunday's guest, is the Reverend Roger Steele, head of all the Congregational Churches of America. We recognize the voice of Estelle Koch, who has lately shifted from the Metropolitan to the Church of the Air.

We change stations, and get in on the University of Chicago Round Table discussion. These feature Brig. Gen. Kenneth Iberg, consultant on military affairs, Leah Hirsch, home economics expert, Olin Henschen, farm advisor, and Deane Becker, English consultant. Following the round table discussion, we recognize the voice of Charlotte Henseler, noted critic. She discusses the merits of La Libre Belgique, latest success of the noted author, N. Ray Suppiger.

CLASS OF 1945--HISTORY

The class of 1945 started their first year at Highland High School with forty-six members. The outstanding event of the year was an all-school Valentine party, which was a tremendous success. They also had a freshman get-together in October. The activities of the year were concluded with a combination bicycle hike and wiener roast at the City Lake for the freshmen only.

The sophomore class of 1942-43, feeling a sense of superiority toward the innocent freshmen began vigorously to put themselves in the highlights. To prove that they could organize and carry out social entertainment, they gave an all-school party after a basketball game. A large number of students attended, and the main entertainment was provided by the school orchestra.

The junior year is always considered the year that the class gets closest to the seniors. The juniors started it off with a bang! The first new business was a party--something unusual and out of the ordinary--as the juniors are. As a result, the Junior Carnival was held on November 5. It was done up in true carnival fashion, including a popularity poll for a carnival queen. Laurene Casper was chosen with the prize of having her picture in the Iris.

The juniors, always looking ahead, now wanted to choose and order their rings. This was done by having representatives show the committee their selection. After the one had been chosen, it was presented to the class and accepted.

The juniors now became concerned about the play for this year. The committee was chosen and selected the play "Growing Pains." Tryouts were held and much serious thinking and working was done on it with good results. The juniors also scheduled a Hobo Party for April 27, which went off very successfully.

CLASS OF 1946--HISTORY

The sophomore class of this year started their first year at Highland High School with fifty-four members. Since that time, their membership has only decreased to fifty-three. During their freshman year, they contributed much to athletic and social clubs with a high representation of talented ability. The highest peak of their social activities was a Valentine party, at which a Queen of Hearts was crowned.

This year, their sophomore year, has been even more illustrious than the preceding one. The sophomores have sponsored two outstanding parties; one for their class only. It was started by playing deck tennis, volley-ball, shuffleboard and ping pong. After the games, there was a pot-luck supper. Following the meal there was a scavenger hunt within the school, which afforded a great deal of entertainment.

The second party was for the entire high school. It was a Birthday Party, which was dedicated to everybody's birthday. Games were played and a delicious lunch was served. Then there was a floor show consisting of a piano duet by June Blacet and Jean Hitz, a solo by Shirley Hug, a song by the sophomore sextette, and George Adamson and Bob Herman impersonating Frank Sinatra and Harry James, respectively.

Looking ahead to their junior year, the class of '46 hopes to even better their records in scholastics, athletics, and other extra-curricular activities.

CLASS OF 1947--HISTORY

The Freshies meekly entered their first year of high school last fall, but soon became accustomed to their new educational and social life, and contributed much to both during the course of the year.

Many of their members took part in the activities of the school. There are representatives on all the athletic teams, in the Glee Club, Band, G. A. A., Home Economics Club, and the F. F. A.

Throughout the year the freshmen sponsored two outstanding parties. One was a simple class get-together, at which they played games, danced, and enjoyed refreshments. The other event was an all-school party, held on April 21. At this time, the main theme was a combination zoot suit and hobo party, which was well attended and afforded much entertainment.

They ended their activities with eager thoughts of next year, when they will be looked up to by the new freshmen. The class sincerely plans to do much more during their remaining three years of school.
Academic Activities
Mr. Pulliam came to H. H. S. determined to teach the shop boys all about shop and drafting. The benefits that the boys received from his able direction will be later used to good advantage.

He has been a class sponsor and also sponsor of the Shop Club of former years.

His work is appreciated and we hope he will be back again next year.
Miss Harney has been with us for five and one-half years. She has more than proved her traits as a helper and guide to many students.

She has been a class sponsor to several classes. She is also director of the Home Economics Club, and in former years she was director of the Tri-Hi-Y.

We hope we may count on seeing her again.
Miss M. Wenger, who has been on the faculty for many years, still upholds her position as commercial teacher. Besides the classes pictured here, she teaches shorthand I, and typing II.

We are sure that the education gained by her tireless efforts will pay dividends to the students in later years. Because of her fine record, we know she merits praise.
Her great intelligence and wisdom in the art of teaching has showed us that we have a fine teacher, Miss Helmkamp.

She teaches the Soph. English classes besides those pictured. She is the Sophomore class sponsor, and sponsor of the Student Council.

She also helped to direct the junior play. We'll be looking for you again next year.
Miss Peterson has been on the school faculty for one year. She has directed the plays and has taught Spanish I besides the classes pictured.

She is the director of the Spanish Club, and Dramatics Club.

We understand that she will not be here again next year. She has proved to be a fine friend and we wish her all the success.
Words fail us when we try to express our gratitude for Miss Weber's kind guidance and help she has given the Iris staff, and of the fine work she has performed in the high school.

The library is run by her careful management, and she also teaches two classes—Health Education and Geometry. She always finds time, though, to enjoy her hobby, taking pictures.
One year of knowing her has made us know and like Mrs. Hale. She taught sixth and seventh grade English in the grade school, besides a Freshman English class in the High School.

Mrs. Hale has shown us her great musical talent by supplying us with entertainment at various events. In her spare moments you can hear her practicing a cheery bit of music.

The band may have its ups and downs, but we know a man that sticks with it and tries to make the band worth while. That man is Mr. Newcom, who is new to the faculty list. Besides being the band instructor, he taught Civics, and has tried to portray to the class the workings of the Government.

We also know Mr. Newcom as one of the players in the dance band.
From what we know of the good name the basketball team has earned, we know that we cannot pass up the coach without a few words of honor. Mr. Revelle has proved to be an expert coach in basketball and football. He is the physical education teacher, and is ever striving to make healthy and strongmen out of the boys.

He also teaches the Agriculture classes, and we know those boys, through his able instruction, will be our future farmers of tomorrow.

He is the Freshman class advisor, and also advisor of the F. F. A.

His pleasant smile and good humor prevails whenever we meet him. We wish him continued success.
Guess Who?

Answers will be found on the Autograph page
Hail the Future Farmers. This year the Future Farmers started with a bang. Nineteen members answered the call on the first Tuesday they met. Milton Stein­ er was elected President of our chapter but was replaced by Curtis Reinacher due to Milton’s Student Council activities which club met on the same day. Earl Bleisch was elected Vice-President, Glenn Grotefendt Secretary, James Winet Treasurer, Jack Klaus Watch-Dog, and Walter Wirtz Reporter. Mr. D. S. Reveille was automatically called on to be their advisor.

The main event that occurred in the fall of the year was the F.F.A. initiation of new members. As Mr. Reveille was not initiated last year when he came to them it was necessary for him to be initiated also. After the initiation ceremony, the boys played softball and had a delicious lunch.

Another familiar event in the lighter side of the picture was the first biannual trip to Greenville. Everyone that went had a grand time at the lake.

This year, for the first time, the F.F.A. has a basketball team. The team played the Freshmen, Sophomore, and Junior teams and scored three victories. Their next game was with the St. Paul first team and they met with utter defeat due to the opposing team's superiority. They played a number of games after that in which they broke even.

The event that the F.F.A. boys look forward to all year is the annual Father-Son Banquet. The boys and their dads meet for a good meal prepared by Miss Harney and her girls. After the meal, Dad and the boys have a program.

All this is what makes the organization of the F.F.A such an interesting club of the school.
Tuesday fifth period has given the G.A.A. an excellent time for meeting every week. The first Tuesday of every month is set aside for the regular business meeting. Officers chosen were Marvene Schneider President, Joan Spelle- berg Secretary, Marian Schmideke Treasurer, and Shirley Essenpreis Vice-President. Miss Dale is their sponsor. During this period for the remainder of the month they play baseball, games, dancing and intend to have hikes when the weather permits.

On November 6, the girls held a Play Day in the gym inviting G.A.A. girls from Greenville, Trenton, and New Baden. Games were played, a luncheon served at noon, and community singing plus other entertainment.

On December 22, the G.A.A. held their Christmas Party in the gym. The outstanding feature of the evening was the crowning of the "Christmas King," James Rutz, who was chosen by a student poll. Games, dancing, and refreshments made up the evening's entertainment.

At the beginning of the school year the girls of the G.A.A. and their dates enjoyed a hayride at Elmer Mueller's with refreshments served in the wide open spaces.

On March 14 the annual basketball tournament was held. A contestant had to have eight hours of basketball practice to be eligible. The G.A.A. member then shoots from eight marked places on the floor. Gloria Beck and Doris Weidner were high scorers from Highland.

G.A.A. bowling was not a success this year due to the lack of interest shown by the girls.
The Library Club was organized in September 1943, for the purpose of taking care of the large number of books in the two libraries. The members were to give up a free period a day to check books in and out and straighten out the library shelves.

At the first meeting, on September 15, the officers were elected. They were: Roger Steele, president; Melvin Volkers, vice-president and treasurer; and Mildred Lorenz, secretary. A set of library rules was drawn up to keep the libraries orderly. A small fee was to be charged for overdue books.

When the club was well under way, it was decided to bring some entertainer to school by way of raising money. Jack Raymon, a snake charmer was elected and appeared on April 6. The proceeds of this program will be used to enlarge the book collection of the two libraries.

The Library Club gave the members a chance to understand better the fundamentals of becoming a librarian. They learned how to look up all sorts of information and how to help others look up reference material.

One of the many projects of the Library Club has been to maintain the plants which have become a part of the beautification program of the School. Our diligent president watered them daily.
September 1 saw the formation of the Dramatics Club of Highland High School. Miss Betty Peterson, head of English and dramatics, was the sponsor. A session for the election of officers was held and the following students were chosen: President, Charlotte Henseler, Bob Hermann, Vice-President, and Junior Essenpreis, Secretary-Treasurer.

The organization, under the direction of Miss Peterson, presented a short play for an assembly program. It dealt with the culinary arts, and the talent possessed by a certain young man in that field. In the play Junior Essenpreis again showed his ability to impersonate a high school girl. The play was part of the interesting club life led by the members of the dramatic club.

The evening of January 29 the members went to St. Louis for an entertaining session of dancing, and eating at the home of Miss Dale, co-director of the club's histrionic talent. The evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The club planned another social evening at the city lake. After hiking out there the members hope to enjoy more good food.
The Student Council, organized last year, again got started under the supervision of Mr. W. L. Waxler. One additional member was elected from each upper class, thus giving each three members while the freshman have two representatives. The council now consists of Estelle Dill Koch, Shirley J. Mueller, and Gene Houser, representing the seniors; Eileen Bircher, elected President, Donald Rikli, and Milton Steiner, representing the juniors; Marion Michael, elected Secretary, Richard Foederer, and Robert Holcombe, representing the sophomores; and Russell Koch, elected Treasurer, and Violette Malan representing the freshmen. Miss Helmkamp was elected sponsor by the members.

The main project of the Council was the sponsoring of the school paper "The Bulldog." (This publication is more fully discussed on another page.) Besides that they again had a check room at the Regional Basketball Tournament this year. The proceeds from these two enterprises will be used to send members of the organization to the state conference to be held at Chicago in April. The representatives have not yet been chosen.

Besides these projects the Council provided entertainment for the student body at an assembly program. The radio truth or consequences program was sponsored by their own product, hooey, phooey chewing gum. Contestants were chosen from the audience to answer questions, and if the question was incorrectly answered the student or faculty member, had to suffer the consequences. The old professor for the program was Donald Rikli.
The school paper, under the sponsorship of the Student Council, again appeared upon the scholastic scene. Editor-in-chief was Deane Becker. Under his excellent guidance the staff turned out "The Bulldog" semi-monthly.

The paper had its nonsense pages, its sports activities, and its serious side portrayed in editorials. Two short stories, "La Libre Belgique" by Ray Suppiger and "Tea for Two" by the editor have been told so far in its five editions.

In each issue a page or two was turned over to news from the junior high. Hayden Young and Nancy Center were the two main contributors to these pages.

"The Bulldog" was a real success and all students both high and grade school eagerly looked forward to the day it would appear for sale.

The publication of the paper has temporarily ceased due to the work on the "Iris" which requires the attention of so many of the staff, but it shall again be resumed in April.
The Spanish Club was organized during the first months of school. The members of the Spanish II Class were the original members. Donald Rikli was elected President and Ellen Bassler Secretary-Treasurer. At the first meeting it was decided that more members were needed. The Spanish I Class of this year and some of the Spanish I Class of last year were invited to join and gladly accepted.

The first activity was a Spanish Supper at which Mexican food was served. It was so successful that another was planned for the near future.

An initiation day was set and everybody fixed up colorful Spanish costumes to wear to school. That evening another supper with formal initiation was held. A picnic is planned for the spring.

The Spanish Club has also seen a number of movies from various Spanish speaking countries of South America. Through these they have been able to get a glimpse of the kinds of people that use the language which they are studying.

On the whole this year has been very successful. Much credit must be given to Miss Peterson, our willing and able sponsor.
This year the Home Ec. Club was again organized to carry on the good work of promoting fellowship among the girls of all the classes of the Home Ec. Department. The officers elected were Mary Gruenenfelder, President, Eileen Steiner, Vice-President, Delores Hosto, Secretary, and Lucille Woodworth, Treasurer. This year the girls organized Parliamentary Rule during their meetings.

They have also had frequent entertainments during their meetings, different girls having charge of each meeting. These meetings were thoroughly enjoyed by all and are looked forward to in future meetings.

Among the girls' social activities for the past year were a hay ride and leap year party. Both were great successes.
This year, for the first time, a camera club of high school students was organized. Sixteen enthusiasts of photography, ready to learn as much as possible about taking pictures, joined the club.

Officers chosen were Morris Tschannen, President, Jim Werner Vice-President, and Ray Suppiger Secretary-Treasurer. Miss Weber, their sponsor, endeavored to teach them everything within her knowledge of photography.

They studied lighting, lens openings, and the types of film to use for taking different kinds of pictures in order to get the best results. After this they learned to develop their pictures, print, and enlarge them. One of their main projects was learning to tint pictures. Chief tinter was Melvin Volker, although all did tinting. Besides these things they learned to take landscape pictures.

They were very critical of the finished product, discussing the good and bad points, and judging the picture in that way either as bad or good.

The Iris Staff owes a great deal to two members of the Camera Club, Morris Tschannen and Melvin Volkers, who took pictures for our yearbook, developed and printed them.

We know the Camera Club has been doing wonderful work this past year. We hope to see the good work continued next year.
Our first game was played under the lights at Collinsville. After fighting to a scoreless tie for three periods, Collinsville intercepted a pass and that was the ball game. This marked the first year we played their first string.

The next game was played on our own gridiron against Roxana. Commanding a 13 to 6 lead at the half, we lost out because of lack of reserves and the constant hammering of the Roxana backs on our tired line. Final score 26 to 13.

For our final game we invaded Roxana. Seven times we penetrated within their 10 yard line but lacked the final drive to put it over the goal line. While we failed to score, Roxana took to the air and netted four touchdowns. When the final whistle blew Roxana had 25 and Highland had 0.

The 1943 Pigskin Parade of Highland High started with 19 partly green but eager candidates. There were six returning lettermen but the team was greatly lacking in weight. We were working under the guidance of Coach Revelle, this being his first year as football mentor. He did a fine job considering our inexperience and our more formidable opponents. As for the record of the team, we ended the season with three defeats.

Jim Rutz shone this year teaming with Werner at the forward position. Second only to Werner with 325 points he had an uncanny "never-miss-shot" which he attempted coming in from almost any direction.

Another guard, Tschannen too figured greatly in our defense. He was also instrumental in making points which came when they were needed.

The Mail Bag: New Year's Eve

Dear Editor,

I would like to suggest a New Year's Eve event for our school. Instead of having a traditional party, we could have a movie night with a special screening of our favorite movies. This would be a fun and unique way to celebrate the New Year.

Sincerely,

The play tells the dilemma of the McIntyres who see their boy and girl tossed in the cataracts of adolescence and can help little further than give directions for the turbulent life from a distance, help which ecocentric youth always rejects, of course.

The brother and sister go through their throes in company with the neighborhood kids. Many incidents happen to all of them, but the end is bright and promising.

Music
The Class of 1944 left behind them a high school band, diligently striving, under the patient and learned leadership of Mr. Myrl Newcom. This musical organization worked faithfully toward the goal of the season—achieving honors at the Granite City Solo Contest April 22. The soloists participating and instruments they played were Bob Hermann, trumpet; James Partridge, clarinet; James Willig, clarinet; and Richard Indermill, tenor saxophone. Two piano soloists and two vocal soloists also attended.

The band played for the annual Christmas concert, and for the times of intermission at the major basketball games of the year.
The year 1944 saw a season of successful singing for the eighty members of the Glee Club under the able direction of Mrs. Lawrence Myers. During the year the organization participated in various activities, both civic and educational. The club presented a cantata, "The Rose of the World" as their contribution to the annual Christmas concert. The P. T. A. included the group in its program February 21. November 11 the Glee Club sang at St. Paul's Hall for the Artistic Day services.

An operetta entitled "Carmelita" was the final major undertaking of the school year. The title role of this production was played by June Blacet, with Jean Hitz, John Higgs, James Rutz, Jean Randall, Shirley Aug, Shirley Stuckwisch, Gene Houser, Marian Michael, Phyllis Holliger, Betty Werner, James Willig, Don Nifik, Glenn Grotesenfot, Morris Schanen and the chorus as the supporting cast.

The social season closed with a picnic at the city lake.
