The HHS Administration were the production line behind Highland High School. Mr. Cronk, Mrs. Thomas, and Mrs. Ifner made sure that students had their class schedules ready with the classes they wanted. Then Mrs. Diesen, Mrs. Fletcher, and Mrs. Braundmeier were ready to collect their money so they could start their classes. They had plenty of students to deal with when the line went all the way out to the commons. Then Mr. Thomas was in charge of making sure the students were there and if not why they were not. Without these and the other members of this team HHS would never run as smoothly as it does. New principal Steve Harsy, award winning VP, Barry Thomas, and VP Joe Schaefer headed the administration.

In Memoriam by Alfred Lord Tennyson

Thy voice is on the rolling air;
I hear thee where the waters run;
Thou standest in the rising sun,
And in the setting thou art fair.

What art thou then? I cannot guess;
But though I seem in star and flower
To feel thee some diffusive power,
I do not therefore love thee less.

My love involves the love before;
My love is vaster passion now;
Though mixed with God and Nature thou,
I seem to love thee more and more.

Far off thou art, but ever nigh;
I have thee still, and I rejoice;
I prosper, circled with thy voice;
I shall not lose thee though I die.

These Are Days 10,000 Maniacs
These are days you'll remember. Never before and never since,
I promise, will the world be as warm as this. And as you feel it, you know it's ture that you are blessed and lucky. It's true that you are touched by something that will grow and bloom in you. These are days you'll remember. When May is rising over you with desire to be part of the miracles you see in every hour.
You'll know it's true that you are blessed and lucky. It's true that you are touched by something that will grow and bloom in you. These are the days you might fill with laughter until you break. These days you might feel a shaft of light make its way across your face. And when you do you'll know how it was meant to be.
See the signs and know their meaning. It's true. You'll know how it was meant to be. Hear the signs and know they're speaking to you. To you.

I don't think I am obsessed with anything. I just try to live a carefree lifestyle with dreams of someday living in the mountains with a selected group of people, not to do anything except possess positive energy.

The Highland Inteligenze

By: Nathan Rickher and Jeremy Corray

Johnny Marsetti is John

The Highland Inteligenze has discovered some startling news concerning one of the more popular lunch entrees. It seems Johnny Marsetti, a former gangster, was betrayed by one of his fellow Mafia thugs. As you will observe in the before and after pictures, he was disposed of in a most unusual way. Gruesome as it sounds, it is actually quite an excellent dining pleasure.

Until the P.E. system gets easier, it looks as if we'll be seeing more of Amos in the halls.

Above: Lenny Hepcat thought he could get away with the ultimate procrastination event of the year. It seems Lenny saved every last bit of homework until the second last day of school. The strain was too much for his young brain and it exploded from the intellectual pressure.
Senior Alicia Flath exchanges pleasantries with the opposition.

Guts, determination, and a never say die attitude, were comments often heard when describing the 1994 MVC champion Lady Tennis team. The girls under head coach Taree McGee, had one of the most successful seasons in recent years. The team consisted of veteran talent, along with future hopefuls. The varsity was led by Junior Jamie Aussieker, who in her third year at the varsity level, won the number one title at the MVC Tournament. Aussieker was also named to the MVC All-Conference Team. Kortney Mueller, Laura Rensing, and Leigha Bergstrand were the remainder of the single players. Mueller finished with the best overall record, while Rensing captured the Bulldog’s Hutler Award. Bergstrand won the Most Improved Award. The doubles team were also victorious quite often in 1994. The number one doubles team of Vicky Weber and Alicia Flath won second place at the HHS Doubles Tournament. The girls finished 7-6 overall, but finished first in the MVC with a 5-1 record.

Hot off the press - Highland gets a girls golf team!! This year marked a new age in Highland’s golf history. This monumental year saw a girl’s golf team added to the fall sports schedule and HHS’ first State qualifier on the boy’s team.

When asked about his State experience, senior Dave Kapp said, “It was a lot of fun. My goal was just to get there. My first day of competition was good, but the second day was not so hot. It was a great experience despite where I placed.”

The girl’s season was just as good. They finished with a 13 and 5 record which took them all the way to Sectionals. They missed advancing to State by six strokes. With an all freshmen team we hope that their season will be just as successful in the next years to come. Way to go golf teams!!!

 = No team score
Overwhelming, hard work, fun? Senior Nathan Rickher used these words to describe this past Cross Country season. When asked to comment about this season, Mr. Mark Geppert, the new Cross Country coach, stated: "As a first year coach, I couldn't have asked for a better group or harder working group of athletes. Everyone really hung together as a TEAM on and off the field."

The girls' Cross Country Team ran to the press taking 1st place against Wesclin, Mater Dei, and Collinsville. Aside from their first win, the girls went on to place 1st at the Mississippi Valley Conference, the Madison County Championships, as well as many others. The girls went so far as to place 1st at the IHSA Regionals. Individually, numerous runners placed in the top 10 in various races. Juniors Laura Buss, Laura Tebbe, April Wilson, and Shandra Zobrist, and sophomores Natalie Gross, Heather Pain, and Melanie Watson were all top ten finishers. Among the accomplishments for the boys team were a second placing at the Madison County Championships, as well as a third placing at the Mississippi Valley Conference. Top ten finishers among the boys team were senior Jeremy Corray and freshman Calib Grinter.

"The Butler Did It!" is the usual ending line to most murder plays. However, in this particular play, it was the key to the entire spectacle. The play was actually built around the concept of all the actors being Butlers, literally. The group of actors are studying for a new show. The problem is the director, who wants some kind of gimmick to sell tickets. When some problems arise in the casting of the show, he realizes he must murder one of the actors, who is causing problems. Through wild twists of fate and some hijinks with poisoned mistletoe, it turns out that the director finally has his selling point. Even if it costs him his life. The play inevitably ended with the director dying, and the line, "The Butler Did it."

The 1994 Highland High School football cheerleaders showed more spirit than ever this year. Even though they had a young squad, they had enough enthusiasm to keep up with the big dogs. The squad was made up of nine freshman, seven sophomores, two juniors, and no seniors.

The squads great enthusiasm had its consequences. "We had many injuries this year, but we kept up our spirits and really worked together as a team." remarked junior, Anne-Marie Dixon.

The squad under the coaching of Sherry Capelle, led the football fans in boisterous chants that spirited the fans even in losing situations. These girls showed the fans that they will say anything to get the crowd ecstatic.
The gossip, fights, and friendships that occurred during this year's football season didn't deal with the game, but the half-time performances. The Highland High School Flag Corps certainly did all of those things. With only six members returning from last year's squad a lot of work was needed. The corps consisted of twenty members and two alternates. Senior members Sarah Warner and Tara Rexroth were the squad's captains. Although in the beginning it was hard to catch onto such things as tosses, speedspins, and double fasts, eventually everyone caught on and the whole squad was able to be at the Right Angle. It also took awhile for a few to learn their right from their left. Even though it took a lot of hard work, and a few arguments did occur, the corps accomplished many things and greatly improved over the five months they were together.

The JV/Frosh Lady Bulldogs of volleyball ran hard and bit deep in the 1994-1995 season. Though they may not have had a winning season, the girls had enough drive to make it all the way. They pushed for their wins, and deserved an "A+" for their efforts. Soph. Erin Weber said of the JV Team, "We did the best we could, and that's really all that matters." Soph. Jessica Winet said, "I think JV improved a lot." There was said to be some lack of authority, and a problem with players being unnecessarily benched. Still, Coach Ann Egleton held onto her pride in the team, saying, "The girls were just terrific, and I hope to work with them again." That in itself is solid proof that the girls of the 1994 Frosh/JV volleyball teams went in for the kill.

INJURIES was one word that described the 1994 JV Football season. The Bulldogs, under coach Joel Hawkins, finished the season with a respectable record of four wins, three losses, and a tie. The high point of the season was the tie against Belleville West. The Bulldogs came out and performed right along side with an extremely talented team. The remainder of the season was filled with constant rearranging of players due to numerous injuries, which placed many players "On the Shelf." Coach Hawkins said, "The players handled the changes well, and we overcame the injuries." The Freshman squad also put together a winning season. The players on both squads hope to have an impact on the varsity program in the future. "They gave a total team effort, and they carried responsibility well," commented Coach Hawkins.

EXTRA, EXTRA READ ALL ABOUT IT! The Lady Bulldog season could have made a rookie coach proud. And that's exactly what they did. The lady Bulldogs conquered Regionals which made them the first Regional champs in 5 years! With first year coach Ms. Jodie Fischer behind the wheel, the Lady Bulldogs finished off their season with an overall record of 20-13. The grueling hard practices, the taste of sweat and the feeling of victory are all things the players are sure to remember. Stephanie Crawley reported that the team had their ups and downs but in the end they prevailed with a truly "Smashing" season.

The Highland Bulldog football team has always been a progressive training team and is always looking for ways to improve the training program. One thing that remained constant is the discipline the players learned during training. Some players believe it has helped them in other areas of life in that they have more self-confidence and self-discipline. Sometimes getting focused required strange rituals for the players. Before every game the players sat in the locker room with the lights out to get mentally prepared for the upcoming contest.

The tradition was evident as the Highland Bulldog varsity football team had yet another winning season. This also marked the end of an era for some Bulldog seniors like Josh Kaburick, Jeremy Gallatin, Aaron Gelly, Kevin Chen, Brian Holt, Phil Marti, and Roger Pfister, who moved on to make way for the next generation of Highland football players. Coach Mike Hooker was very pleased with this season and is very enthusiastic about next year.

Q: What does it take to have a memorable soccer team at Highland High school for 1994?

A: Having the first girl on the boys' varsity soccer team.

Sophomore Rita Durbin was the first girl to win a varsity letter on a Highland High school soccer team. The varsity posted a winning record of 12-7-1. They made it to the regionals. They also finished 2nd place in a six team conference. They only needed to win one more game to make it to the championships. Mr. Meyer said that his most memorable moment was "when we beat Alton 1 to 0 in the tournament. The game was scoreless until Matt McPherson passed the ball to Adam Ford for the goal and the winning point of the game." Todd Bugger got an award for the most outstanding defensive player. Brenden Dillier got the most outstanding offensive player award, and the most improved player was Marshall Sims. To answer the question, yes, it was a memorable year for the soccer team.

Lifesavers was a club that helped many students in their personal lives by learning ways to support others. The qualities that these students have learned came from a two day retreat in the spring or fall of the year. On these retreats speakers came in and spoke on issues that teens deal with on a daily basis, like sex, stress and family relationships. These retreats were serious however, there were fun and games too. The retreats are not the only aspect of this group. They were involved in many school and community activities. Throughout the year students spoke to kids at the junior high about high school life with the "Growing Up Well" program. Christmas was also a busy time for these students. They sponsored a needy family and also delivered gifts to needy families. Another activity they did was Secret Santa. Students gave gifts to each other for the week before Christmas. Then at the end of the week there was a big party were they find out who has been sending them gifts all week. The students involved in Lifesavers gave personal time to help others and they had fun in the process.

There are always those kids that are too "cool" to get their class picture taken for the yearbook. This group of juniors would be the ones that couldn't take away class time to get their picture taken or didn't think that it was very important. So you can either look at these students as hard workers who couldn't leave class or as students that will be remembered as a name without a face.

The Friends of the Library were quite busy over the 1994-95 school year. In September, they sold bookcovers and in November poster boards were sold. In celebration of Halloween, they had a party and Christmas also brought a celebration. In March, the Friends held a Bowl-A-Thon to raise money for their club funds. They used it for their end of the year party. National Library Week was in April. Students were able to vote for their favorite books. The top ten favorites were then purchased for the library. Among the top ten were The Client, It, and Night.

The National Honor Society was again the best it could be. The members of the society have to work their hardest at school, volunteer for the community, and like to be involved in many different things. These students are tops in their class. NHS held its annual College Night and helped with 8th grade orientation. The members of this group were inducted by Mrs. Cary Ittner and Mrs. Jackie Scheinder. These students are "Tops in their class."

The Scholar Bowl Team was successful again this year. They worked well as a team and ended up tops in their own way. Both the J.V. and Varsity teams competed again this year and although the team was young it looks well for the future. The teams were coached to their many victories by Ms. Kay and Mrs. Probst. The Scholar Bowl was top of the line again.

Taking us back to a time when most of us were not even born was the ever popular and mighty strength of the Social Studies department. This department has taken us all over the world in our journey of learning. From right here in America to the explorations of space we have had opportunities to expand our minds and learn about our ancestors, their struggles and hardships they endured. So that one day we would have the chance to increase the wealth of knowledge.

WORLD AFFAIRS
The drinking age in the U.S. and the death penalty are controversial subjects. These were the hot topics of debate in Mrs. Meyer's English II classes. While these classes were debating on what the drinking age should be, the English III classes were busy digging up information for their dreaded research papers. As the juniors were going crazy trying to finish their research papers on time, the seniors in English IV were writing psychiatric case files. They chose a character from the play A Doll's House and pretended to be their psychiatrist. As the seniors were analyzing Torvald and Nora for A Doll's House, Mrs. Schnieder's Basic English I classes were discussing S.E. Hinton's That Was Then, This is Now. As all this was going on, Mrs. Fredericksen was finding out how hard the first year of teaching could be. She described her first year as, "Challenging, stressful, and enjoyable."

The Speech Team this year went from a slow start to a pinnacle finish which was augmented by Jamie Aussieker and Matt Embry's successful trip to the state competition. The excitement and energy displayed by the Speech Team and it's activities was an example for the entire school to mimic and follow.
Acting is an artform that the Thesbians have taken to a higher level of eccentricity. So much hard work goes into plays like "The Butler Did It" and this year's musical "Carnival", which was the peak and final momentous occasion that typifies the whole year's activities. The hard work and dedication has payed off well for all of the Thespian members.

The HHS wrestling team had the characteristics of a young team to overcome. The only two seniors were Josh Kaburick and Roger Pfister. It was Josh's first year back since his freshman year. Even with the challenges of a young team to overcome, they won eight meets and had four people go on to sectionals. The season ended with a bang when Roger not only qualified for state but also was named to the News-Democrat All-Area Wrestling team.

Physical Condition
BOOM! HHS Poms shook the room! The 1994-1995 season was a season like no other. With a squad made up of four veterans and six newcomers, they proved that you can teach an old dawg new tricks. The girls definitely had a new attitude. They broke away from the same old beat and the same old uniforms. Not only did the talented squad dance as a unit, they also worked as a unit. They developed friendships off the floor. But when they did get out there, it was pure enthusiasm. They let the crowd in on their motto. "It's a dance thing."

It's been a lot of fun, and I'm going to miss it.

"Hey Bulldogs what's your number? Number one, number one, number one!" The Highland High School 1994-95 Junior Varsity Cheerleaders demonstrated just how true this was in their repeat performance as I.C.C.A. State Champions. This allowed Highland to capture both first place positions in the competition once again. On their road to the state championship the cheerleaders perfected their tumbling routines and strengthened their vocal cords through rigorous practices, camps and competitions, headed by Coach Cheryl Haselhorst. Proving, once again, that they not only had school spirit, but a champion voice to follow suit.

STAUNTON TOURNAMENT 1ST PLACE

Bulldog hopefuls for the future went at it again this year, under J.V. Coach Steve Lanxon, and under new Freshmen coach Jay Cryder. Both squads finished with records hovering around the five hundred mark. Coach Lanxon was blessed with many players who also received a lot of Varsity time. Coach Lanxon had this remark about the season, "This squad was a lot of fun to work with. They learned a lot about the game, and how important it is to be consistent every night." Coach Cryder also had a successful first year, and he used his own playing experience to help teach the game. Taking home first place at Staunton was definitely a highlight for the freshman squad.

Winter Sports 75
The Physical Education Department, lead by Ms. Harrison, Mr. Kantner, Ms. Plater, and Mr. Stillwagon, was full of excitement this year. There were many activities that they participated in. In regular PE, besides having to do the stretches and exercises at the beginning of class, there was still room for fun. There were the fun activities that consisted of flag football, soccer, track and field, etc. Then there was conditioning PE for the students that wanted to take a harder PE class. This helped get them stronger by lifting and running a lot. But even they have some days for fun with fun games and activities. The one fun thing that both classes got to do was leave school one day a week to go bowling.

It's the time that every sophomore dreams of. The time to learn how to drive. Before students can take Behind the Wheel they must survive the infamous class Safety. Headed by Mr. Frank Stillwagon this class taught what was needed to know in order to operate a motor vehicle. He taught the proper ways of running a car. Some people said if you can get through Safety, the rest is a breeze.

Health is also a sophomore class. This class is required. Most sophomores learn about the body. The really exciting part is in the spring, when the students learn first aid. They are given a dummy to practice their procedures on. Then if they do everything right, they get certified in first aid by the American Red Cross. This class was taught by Mr. Rich Kantner and Ms. Plater. She is new to the school this year.

"HHS is back for three!!" These were the infamous lines that were heard throughout the state of Illinois as the Highland High School Varsity Cheerleaders won the ICCA State Championship title for the third consecutive year.

"It was a fun, yet, rough year." replied Sophomore Angie Klaus when asked about her experience with the varsity squad. Rough it was for the squad. Many injuries on the squad left them with quite a few adjustments and changes to make. A bad injury two weeks before the state competition made the coach, Terry Aebischer, have to look for a replacement and fast. A speedy try-out was held which brought freshman Brooke Dillier on. With the little time that the girls had left they quickly put together a dynamite routine that made them stand-out once again at the state competition in Normal, Illinois. These outstanding girls definitely deserve three cheers for their dedication and extraordinary determination.

The girls varsity basketball team certainly was not lacking experienced players this year. With four out of the five starters being seniors, it's no wonder Highland had such a great season. The only problem is, what will happen next year to the team? Sophomore Mandie Schmitt commented, "It will be incomplete without the seniors, but upcoming talent is coming." The girls victorious season earned the program's 250th game win on February 9th vs. Alton. This is quite an accomplishment since the program began in 1978. A few of the outstanding players from this year's team were recognized at the sports banquet. Sophomore Mandie Schmitt was named "Offensive player of the year," while junior Laura Buss was given the "Defensive player of the year" award. The "most valuable player" award went to senior Erin May. Copy and Pictures By: Leigha Bergstrand 1958 was the last time a Bulldog Basketball team made it to the Sectional Final. In 1995, the Bulldogs accomplished this feat. The Bulldogs, under head coach Jeff Faulkenberg, finished with a record of 22-8, which is one win shy of the school record. The Bulldogs won the MVC, finished 2nd at the Nashville Tournament, and 3rd at the Mater Dei Tournament. Senior help was provided by Jon Gould and Jeremy Gallatin, but the bulk of the squad was made up of a very talented junior class. The future looks bright with Nathan Rueter, Joe Hoffman, Ryan Warnecke, and Bulldog scoring leader Tom Wells.

Mr. Vogelman and Mr. Lanxon are both members of the Weightlifting Advisory Team. Alex Scholl watches to make sure J.D. Wesselmann doesn't get in trouble with the weights.

The Weightlifting Club decided to go "underground" last year. Each night after school they met underneath the school to lift weights. Because they could only meet for twenty minutes if they were an actual club, they opted just to wait until after school and lift until about 5:00. A select group paid their dues and were permitted to lift after school under the watchful eye of Mr. Lanxon. Their main concern was safety and they always worked with partners. The Weightlifting Club became a mecca for the Health and Fitness bound.
In 1994-1995, the Future Medical Careers Club was very busy. They raised about 126 pints of blood. They kept all of the donors happy with food donated by Mazzio's, Pizza Hut, and Hardee's. On April 11, the FMCC took the long awaited field trip to Barnes Hospital. There they got to look at cadavers that the medical students work with. It was exciting for everyone involved. Having participated in the club, they are now ready to pursue their Future Medical Careers.

Everyone loves a Carnival. So when plans come about to pick the Spring Musical, Carnival was chosen. When Mr. Young announced try-outs, a lot of kids decided they wanted to run away with the "Cirque de Paris". There were about 45 spots for people to fill, but only 6 main characters. There was plenty of on stage action for everyone to share. Unlike previous years this musical concentrated more on story than on showstopping tunes and dances. This is what makes Carnival so unique. It is the story of innocence lost and redemption. It is the story of a wandering carnival and the characters in it.

Inside the Carnival time has stopped for the group as they all live for the show and nothing else.

Under the enthusiastic owner B.F. Shlegel they wander the back roads of Europe performing. As the story begins we see the frustration of one of the puppeteers named Paul. (Matt Embry's performance of the lame Paul was award winning.) Along with his trusty sidekick Jacqout he is always looking for something more in life. That's when an innocent girl named Lili wanders into the Carnival. (Sarah Maxfield portrayed the lovable child Lily with a surreal acuteness that left spectators breathless.) Paul sees his inspiration in her battles a war in his heart. Meanwhile, Lili has fallen in love with Marco the magnificent, an aging but dashing magician. What follows is a classic love triangle of divine proportions. This year marked the first time the musical was presented on a Sunday Matinee. While the attendance was not as huge as the other nights, it seemed to capture the essence of the show with the small crowd being similar to what the real "Cirque de Paris" would perform for. All in all it was a spectacular performance by everyone involved.

Left: Marco the Magnificent (played by Brock Grandame) seduces an unsuspecting Lily (played by Maxfield) in order to win her affections away from the silent Paul, and, at the same time, have his own ego stroked.

Busy was the buzz in the chorus department this year. Along with numerous concerts that the choirs all performed there were also many other activities that the students were able to be involved in. One of the events was the Madrigal Dinner where the students dressed up in Renaissance clothing, sang, acted, and also served the audience with food. A Vocal Jazz Ensemble was an added attraction. The whole choir department revolves around Mr. Joe Young. A concert in which the students performed all of their original material was recorded on a CD called "New Voices". The CD was available for purchase. Overall, the year was jam-packed with fun and memories.

"Mathematics will never leave you!" This was the one lesson every math teacher at Highland High School wanted their students to leave with, even if they hadn't taught them anything else. While most math teachers at HHS tried proving this point through various projects such as the construction of isosohedrons, and projects involving word problems, math's interaction with the students' everyday lives was the barrier everyone knew had to be broken down. And through graphs, everyday accounting, and various word problem scenarios the teachers at HHS did just that. Showing their students that math would always be something they could count on.

"If extensive, intriguing discussions on halograms or nuclear fission aren't enough to persuade you to crawl out of bed on an early Saturday morning, just think of the free refreshments." This was the response of many of HHS's brightest when asked what their motivation was in attending Saturday Scholars. Yet, while the refreshments were a definite bonus, it was clear that these students were thirsting for something more than just good O.J., as each Saturday morning for 4 weeks they traveled to several different area schools to attend lectures that their classes at HHS were unable to cover. Proving that these students thirst for knowledge was far more overwhelming than their craving for sleep.

Spending your free time taking additional math tests may not be every student's ideal leisure activity, but for the HHS Math Team it was a thrill just to compete against students from surrounding area schools on their knowledge of mathematics. During these times the HHS students would travel with their sponsors, Lisa Brede and Chris Cox, to their opponents school and challenge them to a competition where each student took a test consisting of a variety of math questions to determine which student from either school could score the highest.

The French club truly experienced saying "Bon Voyage" as 15 HHS students were off to Europe for a week last summer. This first time that HHS students were offered this fabulous trip. The rest of the French Club students experienced a dose of culture as well. The french club was taught by Ms. Elaine Thebus throughout the year. She taught them what the culture in France was like and how to speak the romantic French language. This year the club experienced much more than classroom lectures but a chance to receive a taste of French culture.

108 Clubs
This year's Spanish Club members experienced the life and culture in their daily Spanish class. Since the members of this club are in their third and fourth years of Spanish, each class was fluent enough to read a book in Spanish. This proved to be boring for some, but it taught the students about Spanish literature and culture. The students also experienced more fun ways of learning. The students experienced Spanish dancing and eating at ethnic restaurants. In addition to that the students took time away from the "norm" for a few days and made pinyatas that were on display in Mrs. Deet's room. The club was given the chance to take a trip to the Barrio in Chicago for a weekend to conclude their Spanish career at H.H.S.

This year's foreign language department served as a travel guide to the world for the students. The students received new opportunities to visit other cultures in both Spanish and French classes. This year was the first year that the Spanish IV classes took an overnight trip to Chicago to visit the Mexican barrio. The French students were offered a trip to Europe during the summer of '94. All of the HHS students got a dose of culture when four foreign exchange students attended our school this year. These students were from Russia, Spain, Denmark, and Japan. An additional teacher was hired this year to teach Spanish because of the popularity of this class. The theme of this department this year was "make the world your oyster, learn a foreign language."

What is ISS? This seemed to be familiar question at the beginning of the year. The In-School Suspension program was a disciplinary program in which suspended students were kept at school, and allowed to do their work, but not allowed to participate in classes. Formerly, students spent their time in the office. This year, the program was extended to be supervised in a room by Miss Beyer.

The night was cold and everyone was looking their best. This Homecoming made the lights go out in Triad. The week started with the annual parade. Clubs, sports, and other organizations showed their spirit by building floats or by just riding in a car or truck. During the week students participated in different activities. There was Beach Bum Day, Hollywood Day, Bulldog Day and others. Also, the annual arm wrestling contest was held over all lunch hours, with a final contest on Friday. On Friday everyone showed their spirit for the football team by attending a pep assembly. After that it was finally time to show the Triad Knights who was better. The Bulldogs knocked the Knights lights out with an overwhelming score. After the sweat, hardwork, and cool air, everyone was ready to dress their best and have a good time. The theme, "New York Nights," helped to intensify the night. The dance was a blast and the debut of the band Bean Pudding helped the night along. Then the announcement of king and queen, who would it be? The answer was simple. The king was Greg Stumpf and the queen was Bonnie Ammann. With that the night continued and everyone went their separate ways and fulfilled their dreams of a "New York Night."
For many students at HHS competitions don't end when school ends. These students have something in their lives that takes work 365 days a year. Since a victory for them is done on their own, without the support of the school, it requires even more work. They know what they accomplished was done by themselves. These competitions range from beauty pageants to tractor pulls to showing animals. Everyone of these students is proud of the accomplishments they have made. After all the hard work they deserve that recognition.

Missing: Special Staff Vicky Weber

@####@! This was the reply from nearly every journalism staff member when told they'd have to meet their deadline. Yet, While much of the new year was spent selecting a theme, meeting deadlines and selling ads to raise money, the staff also found ways to enjoy their new found job. This was done through the celebration of staff birthdays, deadline parties and capturing those Kodak moments on film. While the year proved to be a new adventure for many, thanks to these folks the students of HHS will have it all on record.

Freshman Class 137
SIGN OF THE TIMES
The Minds of HHS

Who were the magnificent people that organized the events at HHS? They were Highland High School's ever talented Student Council. Running this group of students were the very brave Mr. Cox, Miss Grygiel, and Mrs. Fischer. This group of selected students met before school in Mr. Cox's room. The Student Council participated in many different activities throughout the year. They held fund raisers, toy drives, and food drives. Large amounts of money were raised from the 1994 Homecoming Coronation, which will reflect on the 1995 Homecoming. It took all the time left in the year for the students to rewrite the HHS Constitution.

Over the Thanksgiving Holiday, the student council sponsored a food drive for the needy. They also sponsored a toy drive during the Christmas Season. All the toys were donated to His Kids of Highland. His Kids is an organization that helps children with cancer. Joe Hoffman, and Jennifer Huelsmann personally went to His Kids and delivered the gifts to the children. This was just one of the many activities the Student Council participated in to help out the community.

Next year every student in Highland High School will be receiving an id. Not just your ordinary id, but a picture id. Everyone roaming the halls will need their id on hand at all times. The plastic coated cards will be handy when you go to any school event or activity and want to pay student price. This was a major change that will affect every student at HHS in forthcoming years.

The second half of the year was spent revising the HHS Constitution. It took a lot of time and hard work. Brandy Mertes claimed, "It was definitely worth my while. I just wish more people, especially from the class of '97, would get involved." When other council members were asked what their most vivid memory of student council meetings was, Joe Hoffman, and Drew Johannes remember Mr. Cox repeating, "Joe, Drew. SHUT-UP!"

The Co-op students didn't do any playing around in the 94-95 school year. They came to school in the morning and in the afternoon they went straight to work. For the first time, several girls went to Nationals in Nashville, Tennessee. Michele Renspurger placed first in the nation, and Jessica Riechmann placed fourteenth. The students of the year were: Jessica Riechmann, Kelly Zobrist, Brian Steiner, and Leslie Flamm.
"Business Is War" was the Japanese saying for dealing in business. If that holds true, then our troops were definitely being trained well by such military leaders as Mr. Cipicciho, Dr. Baker, Mrs. Wolfe and Mr. Faulkenburg. The traditional courses were offered such as Computer Concepts, Keyboarding, Accounting, Business Law, Info Processing and others. This year, the Business Dept. was proud to offer a new course in Product Marketing. This class taught students in the ways of retail marketing and advertising. As teenagers were the hot target market for advertisers, the students got to study just how they were being played. Everyday the area around the Business Dept. was alive with the echo of clicking computer keys and the scratching of pencils as our troops were being trained for war.

The 1994 - 95 edition of the Science Club was not an ordinary club. The club, led by President Kevin Chen and sponsor Mr. Grodeon, was a tightly knit family. The eager young Science Club members took a trip to the Botanical Garden and the Science Center. The Botanical Garden supplied the young scientists with Venus Flytraps, and hours of fun.

The green thumbs of HHS once again gave it their all in the 1994-95 year for the earth. The Illinois River Project was again the big event for the club. The project involved many group activities, seminars, and most importantly, fun. The Ecology Club also helped in the national celebrated Earth Day by supplying HHS students with earth saving information.

As always, the Science Department had its share of excitement this year. Along with the usual explosions, chemical spills, and nasty odors, came the dramatic search for the escaped tarantula. This missing insect topped the frequent escapes of last year's gerbil. The department also had a major change due to Mr. Hyre's move to Athletic Director. He had to drop his class load due to the enormous change. Once again, one of the most exciting departments did not disappoint HHS in '95.

Innovation. That was the word to describe the increasingly growing special education department. The department added new activities such as Team Teaching. Teachers from other classes came in and helped the students with the learning process. Special Education students were required to earn credit in all of the categories of learning. This includes Math, English, Science, and History. The students were also treated to some spectacular field trips. Since they were a small group, they were able to go more places quicker. This year's events included a speaker talking about the Holocaust and a trip to pick up applications around local businesses. One teacher, Mrs. Korte, even took the kids bowling for a lesson in math. What is the Alternative Education Program? The Alternative Education Program is a program designed to aid students who need to make-up credits. Although this program has existed since 1981, it was extended to include eighth and ninth hours after school, in addition to seventh hour. The program was directed by Mr. Steven Moore and Mr. Joe Schafer.

The Industrial Arts department consists of those mysterious sections of HHS that some students have never found. For those students who spent time in this area the results were beneficial. Under the watchful eyes of Mr. Pete Tucker and the new Mr. Rob Werden these young men and women learned to draft, build, and repair. Mr. Rob Werden spent his first year here helping the students at H.H.S. learn to fend for themselves in the working industry. His year here was a successful one. Mr. Pete Tucker also had a successful year even with all the classroom confusion that occurred this year.

VICA stands for the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America. VICA is a local, state and national organization for students interested in trade, industrial, technical, and health occupations. There are over 250,000 VICA members in the nation. VICA helps its members develop both vocational and leadership skills. The basic unit of VICA is a chapter otherwise known as a local club. The Highland VICA Chapter is headed by President Corey D. Voegele. Other officers include Vice president Chad Korte, Secretary Keith Spealman, Treasurer Larry Johnston, and Parliamentarian Doug Spealman. Peter A Tucker is the chief advisor of the chapter. The Highland Chapter Conference was held in Morris, Illinois. Eleven Highland students attended this conference where they were involved in activities to improve their leadership skills. At the conference Corey Voegele, Ryan Starks, Marshall Sims, Chad Korte, and Larry Johnston received the Illinois VICA Statesman Award for demonstrating knowledge of the VICA organization. Corey Voegele was also elected as the Southern Area Vice President of the state. As a state officer Corey Voegele was able to attend state meetings and participate in the planning and supervising of the Illinois Skills Championship in Springfield. At this conference 12 Highland students competed in skills contests such as drafting and also the state of Illinois. President Corey Voegele commented, "This last year has been the most successful year of he Highland VICA Chapter and the chapter has become a true leadership training ground."
This year's J.E.T. club competed in many different subjects. The district competed at BAC and they competed in seven different areas which were Math, English, Chemistry, Physics, Biology, Engineering Graphics, Computer Fundamentals. The individuals that competed were for Math: Kyle Linenfelser-5th place, and Sarah Warner-7th place. Physics: Kurt Driesner-7th place, Corey Voegele-8th place, and Sarah Warner-8th place. Engineering Graphics: Jenny Plocher-2nd place, Chad Fitterer-6th place Computer Fundamentals: Corey Voegele-7th place, Chad Fitterer-8th place. The team ranked 5th place in all, 2nd in Math, 3rd in Physics, and 1st in Engineering Graphics. Jenny Plocher advanced to Regionals at SIUE where she took 1st place and continued her good effort at State (U of I) where she showed well but not in the top 10.
What does it take to grow a plant? How can you run a business successfully? What does agriculture do for us? These were some questions that could have been heard in the agriculture classrooms at H.H.S. The people that had the answers to these questions were Mr. Larry Jones and Mr. Don Schmitz. 1995 was their second year teaching at H.H.S. and they did a wonderful job of keeping the students at Highland interested in the ag field. Many people think of agriculture as farming and animals but in the 90's agriculture deals with computers, business, marketing, and the farmers working together. Many students are realizing this and that is why the agriculture classes grew to teaching around 200 kids.

There are many different fields of interest in agriculture, including intro to Agriculture, Ag Science, Horticulture, Ag Business, and Ag Business Operations. With all of this to offer it makes sense that agriculture at H.H.S. is a "Growing Field Of Interest."

ORDER! ORDER! This was a word that the Highland FFA chapter had problems with sometimes, especially during banquet time. Not only did the chapter host events for other chapters but they also helped the city by putting up Christmas decorations at the square. The FFA kids are one of a kind. The FFA chapter participated in many contests during the year including soil, livestock, dairy, and crop judging. They also competed in the parliamentary procedure, sales management, welding, public speaking, and land use contests. This year the FFA chapter kept their tradition by building two floats, one for the HHS Homecoming Parade and for the Highland Lighted Christmas Parade. The chapter had fun while building these floats including late nights at school and ordering pizzas. The chapter lost a valuable member this year in Mark Rottman. The club decided unanimously that they would start an award program to be given to Aaron Gelly. A tradition has been set by the Highland FFA chapter that consists of hard work, friendships, responsibility, and dedication. This year’s FFA chapter surpassed all of these qualifications and will continue to be a Growing Field of Opportunities.

Construction paper, paste, scissors, paint, and paint brushes. These are the tools that were the foundation for work created by this year's art students.

Instructed by Mrs. Ann Pastrovich, this year's students participated in many activities. The students visited The Chicago Art Institute, decorated a Christmas tree at Faith Countryside Apartments, and presented an Art Expo. In addition, they put on the annual Art Fair in which students' artwork was sold.

Some students' work were also sent to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Chris Alexander was one such student. His work was also sent to an art show at Belleville Area College where it received an award.

What is the secret in those hidden rooms next to the library? It's Home Ec! The strange whirring sounds could be attributed to the Clothing classes, who made their own clothes and tons of aprons for a fundraiser. Students who took Child Care learned how to change diapers and many other babysitting basics, while Parenting classes learned how to help their children develop properly. Adult Living dealt with the sad truth that all Highland students will have to grow up someday. Foods helped a lot if you were hungry, but beside that, students learned about nutrition. Mrs. Linda Plett and Mrs. Erlene Bretzlaff were always on hand to keep the kitchen from going up in flames or to protect sewing machines from being thrown out of the windows.

When most people think of boy's track they think of people running around a track. Track consists of much more than that. There are the hurdles, shotput, long jump along with short and long distance running. Most people don't think of track as being a spectators sport either, but when it is realized that there are many different aspects to track it is easy to find an event a spectator would enjoy watching. This year the boy's track team was coached by Mr. Henry Vogelman. The guys enjoyed having him as a coach because he would run with them at times and show them how to do things and not just tell them. The track team went through some hard times this year but did succeed at many. The track team looks ready for the upcoming years as they strive to keep ahead while "Running Against Time."

READY! SET! BANG! This is what the HHS girl's track team heard everytime they went to the starting line. This year the team was weighted by the three returning seniors Laura Rensing, Anna Foehner, and Sarah Warner. They helped pull the team together in hard times and helped them to celebrate during the good times. The team accomplished an annual ritual this year by taking home first place at the Madison County Meet for the 18th year in a row. They also took first at MVC for the 10th time out of 15 years. The girl's track team competed very well under the coaching staff of Mr. Doug Bradley and Mr. Ted Cippichio. They were READY for the competition, SET to break records, and completed their year with a BANG!

The defending MVC champs took the field again this year with hopes of another MVC crown. The Bulldogs struggled with consistency in the win column though and finished short of their goal. The Bulldogs led offensively by seniors Kurt Driesner and Brian Knebel did heat up in the stretch. Their winning ways were sparked by a 2-1 victory over top ranked Collinsville, and by the steady play of the infield led by the two year double play combination of Izzy Cummings, Steve Rehberger, and slick handed first baseman Ryan Ilges. The pitching staff was led by Junior Brett Henschen, who contributed in various spots all year.

The senior class of 1995 will be saying good-bye to Highland High School on May twenty-first and setting forth into the future. This class has set many goals for themselves over the last four years. Some they have failed to reach but most they have achieved. The people are going to be the mothers, fathers, doctors, lawyers, and teachers of our future. We wish them the best as they set forth into their lives. As the Class of 1995's ceremony came to an end there were many smiles and tears. Happy to finally be out of high school but sad to be saying good-bye to friends. Three people that had set high goals for themselves and had something to smile about were the Valedictorians Bonnie Ammann and Corey Voegel and the Salutatorian Kevin Chen. The dreams, expectations, and disappointments all of the students of the Class of 1995 are in the future but will be reflected on their four years at Highland High School.

Along with the other changes that took place this year HHS added a study hall. Mr. Keith Toennies was the tough task master and kept everyone "studying". The glare from the distraction at times but the students never had to guess about the weather.
