Varsity 2003 Bulldog Hockey Club.

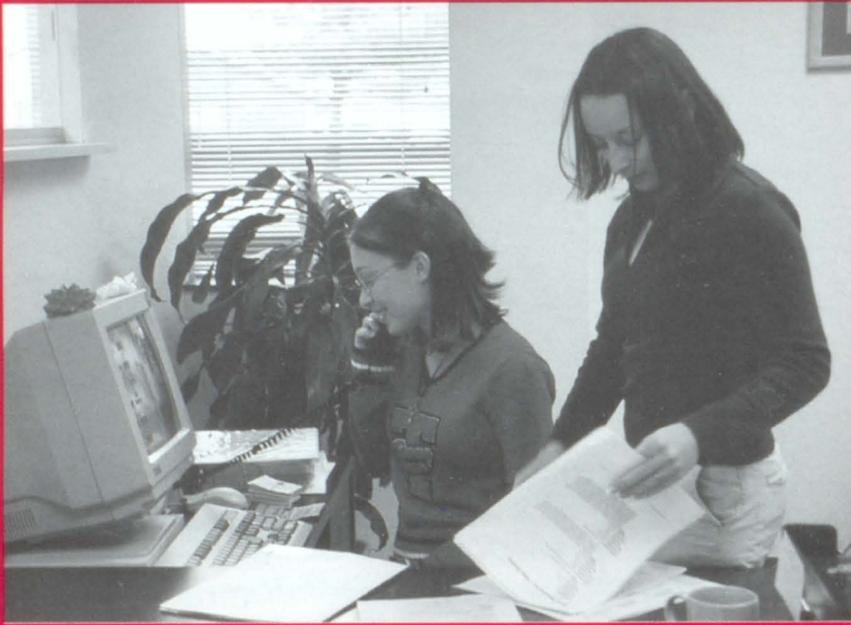

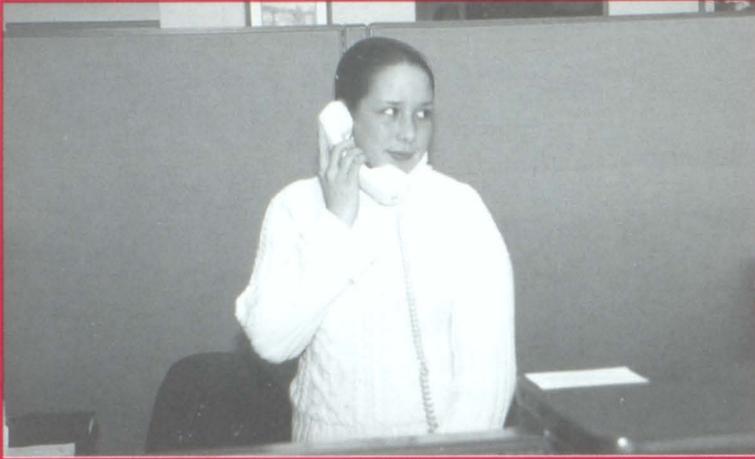

Jessica Gilomen grades papers at Highland Mid Elementary.

Each day the students waited for the final bell to release them from tests, quizzes, books, work, and, most importantly, school. When that bell rang it signaled them to their busy lives. Some students went to work at their jobs while others just spent time with their friends. Some participated in clubs such as the Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) and the Bulldog Hockey Club. FCA held meetings every Wednesday night at a member's house. Sometimes the boys and girls held meetings together, but for the majority of the time they held separate meetings. To have some fun, FCA attended the Bulldog Hockey Club's games. The hockey team faced many challenges but they overcame them and came together as a team.

The Chief of CONTROL complains about the latest case to his secretary Miss Finch.

This year's fall play, Get Smart, was a smash hit. Featuring Andy Gregurich as Maxwell Smart (Agent 86), Heather Gauen as Agent 99, Matt Scheibel as the Chief, Leah Dennison as Miss Finch, Patrick Kernan as Professor Dante, Kristy Hook as Princess Ingrid, Andrew Nungesser as Mr. Big, and Marshall Todt as Garth, it was performed in the Kennel on November 21, 22, and 23. A spoof on the life of a 1960's spy, Get Smart pitted the evil organization of KAOS against the spies of CONTROL. Maxwell Smart, along with the help of his assistant 99, must stop KAOS' plot to kidnap a Scandinavian princess and blow up the Statue of Liberty. The cast, under the direction of Mrs. Vogelman and Stage Manager Matt Korte, worked diligently to bring this comedy to the stage.

Showing their school spirit, seniors get excited about their last high school homecoming parade.

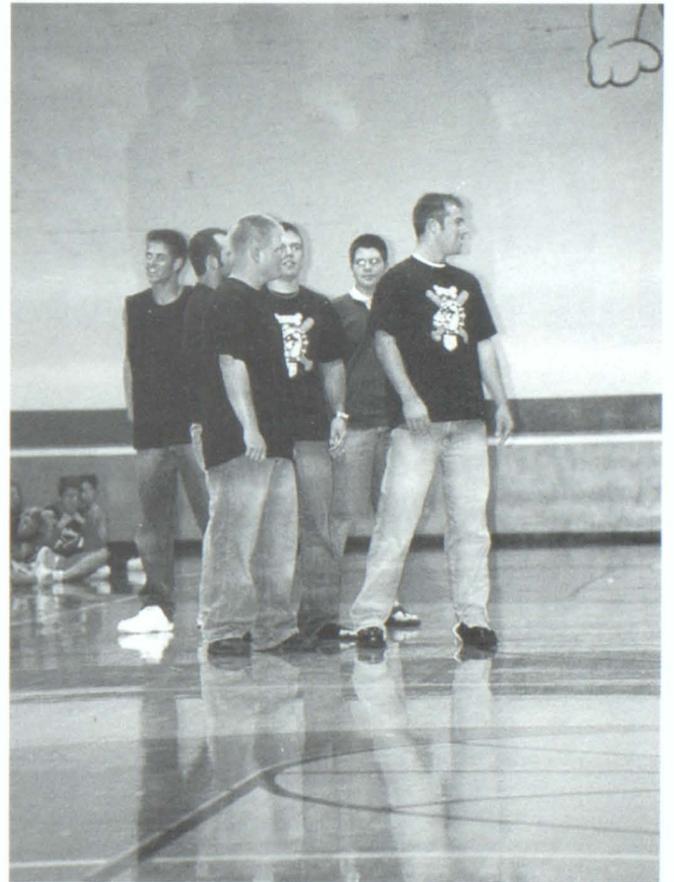

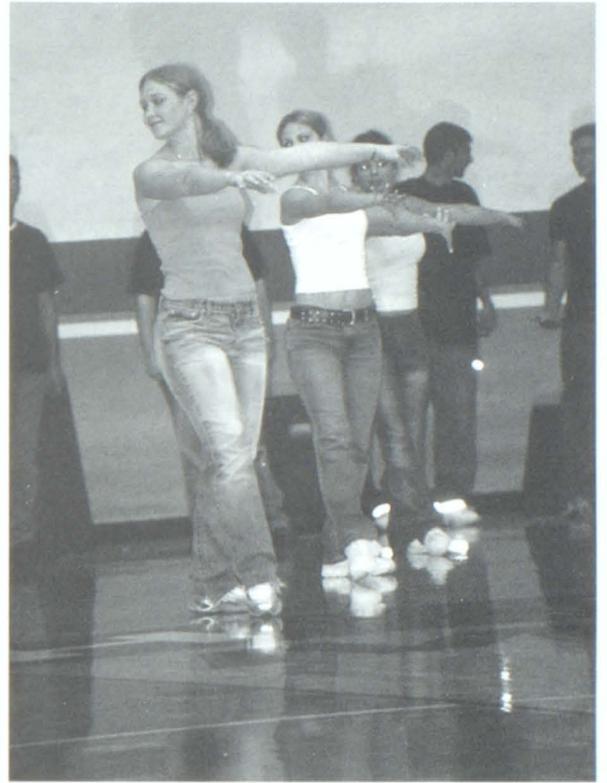

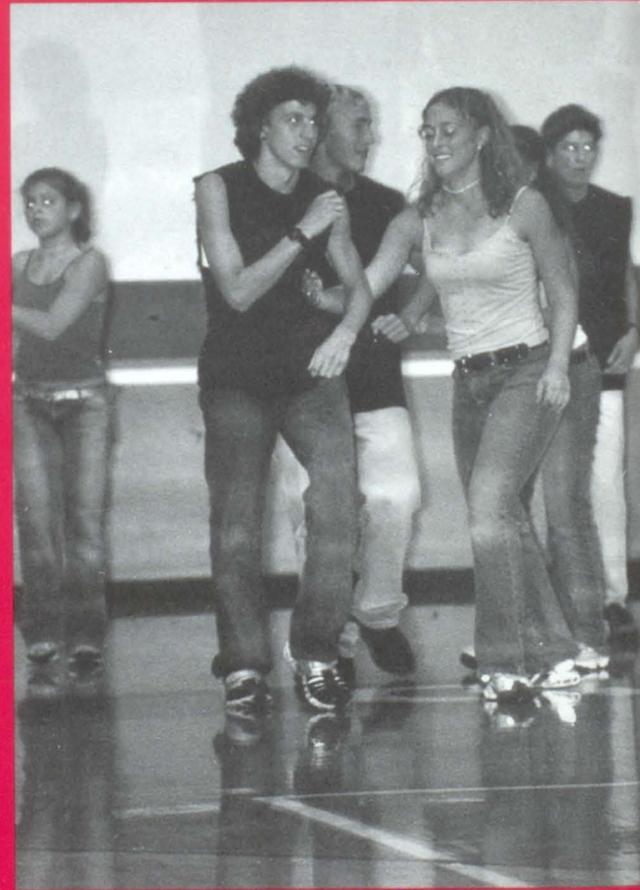

Michelle Henson and Krystal Griffith are excited about the night of dancing ahead of them.

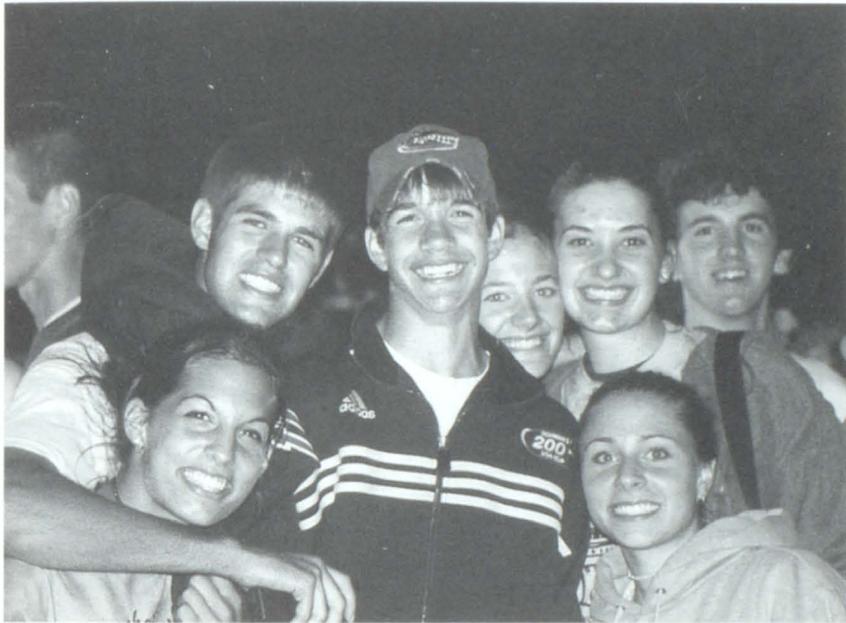

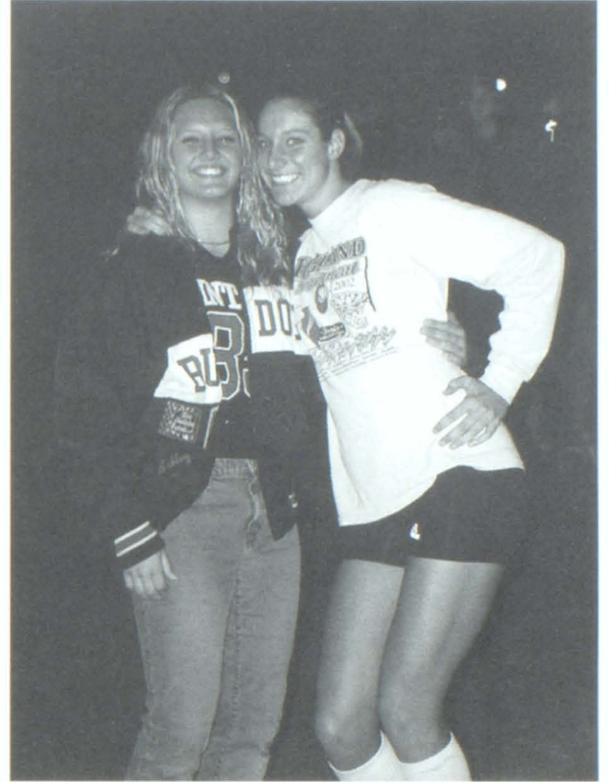

Dancing the "Shanghai Nights" away, students kicked off Homecoming week 2002 with the annual coronation and dance.

Jennie Degge and Ryan Driscoll were crowned queen and king while Jamie Zurliene and John Chapman were honored as special maid and special escort. After resting up from the weekend, students returned to school Monday for twin day. Tuesday was Oriental dress-up day and Wednesday was hat day for charity. The spirit stick competition began Thursday with a school-wide pep rally. Later that night, the powder puff football tournament and bonfire were held. At the football game Friday night, we were narrowly defeated by the Triad Knights in overtime. The Class of 2004 was announced as the spirit stick champions, with the Class of 2006 in a close second.

Raafi Marshi closes the evening with a farewell speech.

After an exhausting night of dancing, the fairies nap in the enchanted forest.

Imagine romance and valor illustrated through song. The Madrigal Singers brought these two virtues to life through performances at the Kansas City Renaissance Festival, several holiday functions, and finally the 9th Annual Madrigal Dinner. The group this year was comprised of several seniors both new and old, as well as singers from all grade levels. Also new this year was a madrigal class that stressed the importance of Renaissance music in that time period. This class was made possible by the 8-block system which proved to be vital to the success of this year's group. Once preparations for the Madrigal Dinner began, many of the group's members were in charge of different aspects of the dinner and worked diligently to make the dinner great. Once again the dinner proved to be a great success. Huzzah!!

Anita and Bernardo exchange sassy expressions.

Officer Krupke, Tim Endicott and Lt. Schrank, Mike Landolt discuss the situation.

This year's spring musical was West Side Story, a classic romance based on Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet. Maria, Katey Westcott, and Tony, Jason Sallee, fell in love while attending a dance. Maria's brother Bernardo, Matt Scheibel, and Riff, Chad Eversgerd, were the leaders of the rival gangs the Sharks and the Jets. Anita, Rachel Buckler, was Bernardo's girlfriend. When the lead, Katey Westcott, broke her foot on Saturday, the cast and crew had to rearrange choreography and blocking in order to put on the show. Despite the injury, the show was a success. With a tearful finale the curtains were closed and the cast received a standing ovation. "I am very proud of the finished product. They did a wonderful job," commented director Mr. Noud.

Watching the deadly demonstration made the students realize the dangers of drinking and driving. After much preparation, the special night finally arrived. The girls wore beautiful dresses, and were accompanied by guys in fabulous tuxedos. With loved ones and friends looking on, the night was truly heavenly. At the dance the prince, princess, king, and queen were announced. The prince and princess were Kyle Ilges and Brittany Sexton. The king and queen were Ben Shea and Jamie Potthast. Afterwards many joined the fun activities of post prom. With many games, prizes, and an obstacle course, it was enjoyable for all who attended.

Most people do not understand the kind of training that a cross country runner must endure. The season started with a week of two-a-days (training) in the blazing heat. Every day that followed challenged the runner to push themselves further. "A race is ninety percent mental. If you are not mentally prepared, you don't stand a chance." stated Dakota Huey. The runners were determined to prove that they had everything it took to go the distance. They finished the season with many accomplishments. Both boys and girls were able to take home the first place trophy at the conference meet. At the beginning of the season, the girls golf team had one thing on their mind: state. When the end of their exceptional season rolled around, that's where they found themselves, along with a 23-3 record. According to Coach Hirsch, "The reason we were so successful this year was because we spent all of our summer out on the golf course." Successful is an understatement. The girls won their sixth MVC tournament and brought home seven out of the ten medals. They also added a first place finish at the Edwardsville Invitational and a fourth place finish in the Illinois vs Missouri Challenge. At state the girls placed 13th overall out of 357 teams in the state. Being in Bloomington and playing in the state tournament will be in the girls' minds forever. With six returning lettermen, the boys golf team set off on what was to be a promising season. Instead the boys took a rollercoaster ride throughout the season. "At times we showed signs of greatness," said Coach Faulkenberg, "while at other times we had sort of mental lapses. We really had a great team, but our tournament record didn't show it." There were many highlights this year. One was Matt Miller scoring a 33 in nine holes to demolish the school record by two strokes. Another was Ned Kampwerth scoring low enough to advance to the sectional round. "The boys did their best all year, and there is nothing more that I could have asked from them. The JV volleyball season started out a bit rocky but the team managed to get it all together. The ladies were led by Coach Jamie Murphy. The year consisted of 11 different conference matches with a record of 6-4. "Our biggest wins were against non-conference foe Mater Dei and a conference game against Waterloo," Coach Murphy said. Although the girls worked really hard, they were able to have fun while at away games and playing volleyball. "Although the record didn't show much victory, we still enjoyed ourselves and became good friends this year," said Breanne Zitta and Christy Trame. "They were a fun group to coach. I finished with six girls so I referred to them as my 'sensational six,'" said Coach Murphy. The girls hope that next year will be an even better experience and hopeful year.

"We overcame many obstacles during the season," said Coach Beyer. With the loss of two varsity members, the team was forced to change their starting lineup many times. The girls worked through the new changes, and came together at the final stretch of the season. During senior night, the team honored senior members Michelle Maedge, Mandie Plocher, and Nicole Taylor. That night, the girls went up against Mater Dei, in what should have been a good matchup. Due to a yellow card, Highland's five point streak was broken. They went on to suffer a bittersweet loss; this was the seniors' last home game. "The highlight of the season was when the ref gave the entire team a yellow card," stated Maedge. All the key elements of a good team were in place for the JV soccer team this year. Plenty of practice and playing unified the players. "We really came together and worked hard. That's what made us a good team." said Darin Watts. They left the season with a respectable record and some vital experience for what will hopefully be an even better Varsity team next year. Said Coach Marks, "The JV team played well all year and were in every game. Even though they were hit with some injuries, they played hard all year and improved greatly. These young men have a lot of potential and should be able to step up to the Varsity level and contribute next year."

Led by senior captains Ben Shea, Sean Riggins, and Chad Eversgerd, this year's soccer team proved to be a close-knit group of guys. Comprised mainly of junior and senior starters, the team displayed excellent chemistry, and had an 8-11-3 record. Highland's thrilling 1-0 victory over an always tough Edwardsville was the high point of the season, and uplifted everyone's spirits. Coach Durbin commented, "The exciting thing about this team was that they continued to support each other throughout the year. They worked together, and developed a bond that resulted in a terrific season. Led by a great group of seniors who displayed good skills on and off the field, they proved that to develop a good soccer team, you must first develop good individuals." With many juniors gaining valuable experience, and the seniors setting the pace, this year's team set a standard for next year, and years to come.

The tennis team faced some tough competition this year along with many obstacles. Senior Barb Munie commented on her most challenging obstacle, "Making it so far in sectionals was quite an accomplishment due to the fact I had chopped off my finger." Munie and her partner, Katie Abeln, made it the farthest in sectionals than anyone else on the team. Jamie Ashford, one of the competitors at the JV tournament, said, "I really enjoyed the tournament this year. I played singles when I usually play doubles, which made me work even harder. I even ended up winning two of the games." This was Coach Barker's first year as a coach. He said, "Our team played with a lot of heart. They faced many teams with a lot of experience. We fought hard and lost a lot of close games this year. Next year we hope to turn the tables towards a winning season."

The high spirited football cheerleaders supported the boys whether they were at home or on the road. During their practices, they invented cheers and stunts to involve the football fans. They made posters and signs to hang around the school in their spare time. Pep rallies were organized by the girls where they performed cheers that showed off their stunting skills and enthusiasm trying to encourage school spirit. Even though they were busy cheering at all of the varsity football games, they were able to make time to cheer at some home soccer games as well as jv football games. "Everyone did a wonderful job cheering for the boys, and my seniors showed excellent leadership. I am going to miss them all," stated Coach Capelle. Captain Lacey Buzick said, "Cheerleading was a great opportunity to meet some fun new people. We always had a good time together."

The junior varsity football team had a disappointing season suffering a final record of 3-6. The team fought some challenges throughout the season. The first was limited practice time. The team rarely had the opportunity to practice. The second key element was injury. Starting quarterback Joe Dickman said, "We never got to practice together as a team, but we still managed to stay competitive." Mr. Keeney, with assistance from Mr. Rueter and Mr. Birkner, coached the team. The team remains hopeful for the future. The freshman football team finished with an impressive record of 6-3. Coach Michaelis and Coach Holt taught the freshman important football fundamentals that will certainly help the young team down the road.

With injuries abundant, this season could have slipped away fast for the varsity football season. Yet, giving up was not an option for these young men. Led by a solid group of seniors who never gave less than their best, the team turned around what could have been a disaster and accomplished another winning season. The players survived a three-game losing streak that would have sent most teams into a tailspin. They lost a heartbreaker at home in overtime to Triad and consecutive road games to Jerseyville and Waterloo. Yet, they took the last two games to finish the season strong and locked up another playoff berth against Springfield Sacred-Heart Griffin. According to Coach Hawkins, "We had another excellent group of young men. Effort, drive and study resulted in a winning season. This sport means a lot to our players and they made the season pass too quickly."

The wrestling team finished another great season by capping off the year with a second place finish in the Mississippi Valley Conference. They finished the year with a 12-7 record. The wrestlers worked hard before the season to try to lose weight. The weight losses allowed the athletes to wrestle at lower weight classes. They frequently ran and sometimes even refused to eat meals in order to accomplish this goal. The hard work paid off, and the wrestlers went on to dominate almost all of their competition. The team had good senior leadership and a dedicated coaching staff. Senior wrestler Dan Hochuli said, "I will miss the good times I shared with my fellow seniors. I also want to thank Coach Michaelis for contributing to some of my most memorable life experiences." The team will have many experienced wrestlers returning next year, and they expect another successful season.

Sophomore seniority and freshman stars dominated the JV basketball team. While perfecting their fundamentals, the young program learned to use each others strengths and play as a team. "As a coach you hope that players will play hard, listen attentively, and work to get better everyday. When those things happen day in and day out, seasons are more enjoyable, and this season was great because of the quality of the young ladies I had the good fortune to work with. While our record might not show it in terms of wins and losses, the girls continued to improve and always gave a good effort," said Coach Hartlieb. The girls fought and played hard. They finished with a handful of wins and an abundance of experience that will greatly benefit them in the seasons to come.

After a promising first year, the Varsity girls basketball team settled into a second season under Coach Elledge. With first-year jitters gone and only talent remaining, the team looked to better their record and make a run for the conference title. Coach Elledge stated, "This year, we had a lot of talent but little experience. All year we competed with the best teams in the state and kept coming up a little short. The nice thing was that by the end of the year, after gaining experience, we were beating those same teams. Having a team that consistently improves throughout the year is all a coach can ever hope for. It is also the mark of a good team." Under the leadership of five seniors, the team learned to work together in order to become successful.

The Junior Varsity dance program has grown tremendously over the past three years. The girls started out the season on a positive note gathering a superior rating, two first place finishes for their dance and the spirit stick at camp in July. The ladies were blessed with an undefeated season and racked up numerous trophies and titles. However, their best accomplishment was overcoming many injuries and pulling together as a team and always encouraging each other to do their best. According to Coach Conzelman, "Their respect for each other's talent was amazing. They were a class act on and off the floor." The girls put an end to a great season at the IDTA J.V. Finals State Contest by receiving a first place in both dance and pom dance categories.

The Varsity dance team began their season on fire with their energetic pom routine entitled "HOT," which won them first place once again at the Illinois State Fair. The squad was also successful at the American Spirit Dance Camp where they earned a superior rating for their home routine, "Manhunt." Several more first place trophies followed throughout the season for the pom routine "Hot" and also for their powerful dance routine, "Outta Love." Both routines exhibited the talent of the squad and took first place at the South Super Sectional, advancing the team to the state level. "These girls are dedicated and determined to do their best and that's what makes them so good," said Coach Deets. The team gave two flawless performances at their state competition at the University of Illinois, and came home state champions in the AA Dance division for the third consecutive year.

The JV boys basketball team had a roller coaster season under Coach Frankford. They had to deal with different starters all year long as well as their fair share of injuries. Also, their practice time usually consisted of acting as a scout team for the Varsity squad. According to Coach Frankford, "Throughout the year we had eight different people start for us. We had so little practice time devoted to the JV alone that it is truly amazing that the boys were still able to be successful." The team was led by juniors Matt Miller, Dusty Keeven and Jason Harsy. Their veteran leadership along with the youth of Nathan Walter and Brett Lewis provided the squad with the right mix of players in order to be successful. "I have been very impressed with the way the ladies have improved with each game. This year, they have played great defense and have taken advantage of situations to score when available," said J.V. Coach Marks. Anna Skosky took advantage of these opportunities and finished as the leading scorer for the J.V. team. She is a freshman leaving her plenty of time to contribute more to the team. Skosky said, "This year soccer was even more fun than I thought it would be. If you have goals and dreams, make them come true." Shanda Owens, goalie, and one of the juniors who will lead the varsity team next year as a senior, said, "Soccer is a great sport. I enjoy playing goalie and participating as a team. Plus it is a great way to meet new people." Ending the season with a winning record makes next year's season look just as promising.

The 2003 Girls Soccer team proved to be the best since the program's inaugural season in the spring of 2000. They took second in conference and had twice as many wins as they did losses. Seven seniors completed their high school career claiming rights as the first class to complete all four years in the soccer program. They can leave knowing that what they started will live forever in the history of our school, and continue to flourish in the years to come. "It's been a lot of fun! We've had our ups and downs this season, but overall I've been extremely pleased with what our team has accomplished this year. The girls have worked hard all season long and it has paid off. We lost some close games to good squads, but we pulled it together in the end to defeat some top ranked area schools," stated Coach Baldus.

The tennis team had a remarkable season winning their first eight matches before losing to Triad. They were led by number one and number two singles players, Tommy Schuette and Matt Pellock. Doubles partners Jason Harsy and Josh Ethridge were almost undefeated in the regular season. Harsy said about the season, "We thought that we would be devastated by the loss of a key player, but instead we fought through the adversity and became very close as a unit and very strong as a team." Coach Hirsch is happy with the potential in next year's team. They have been strong all year with only one senior in Tommy Schuette. The team placed second at the conference match. "This years team was very versatile. They all played and learned many positions and situations. This versatility will help the future of the program," stated Coach Cryder about her young J.V. softball team. The team was composed of three sophomores and ten freshman. Even with the inexperienced underclassmen, the team gave their best effort at every competition. Most players got to experience a variety of positions. Having the opportunity to learn to play the different areas of the field improved the team as a whole. They began the season a bit shakey with a few losses but their determination and strengths carried them through the rest of the season without too many problems. Overcoming the disadvantage of little experience brought the team together for a memorable season.

Struggling in new positions, the varsity maintained its composure with solid defense throughout the year. Of the five returning starters, only three players came back to their original position, leaving seven underclassmen to pick up the rest of the slots. The pitching mound was tackled by youngsters as well. Shannon Everett and Courtney Miller each split the games. The team pulled itself through many tight situations, forcing the opponents to leave runners stranded. As Coach Kohnen summarized, "This team is made up of a group of hard workers who truly support one another and worked to benefit the team as a whole. Each girl understood her role and contributed to the team with great dedication to the sport. The seniors have done an excellent job of providing leadership through example and will be greatly missed."

Executing the small things to win ball games is what Highland baseball has become notorious for, and this year's J.V. baseball team set out to do just that. Under the second year of coaching by former player Nathan Rueter, the boys were more than prepared for the tasks ahead. Winning more than 15 games was a standard not reached by a J.V. team in quite sometime, and this group accomplished it with ease. Offense was a big part of the team's success. Dusty Schalenberg commented, "Since the beginning of the season, we have been hitting the ball around a lot more. This makes the game less stressful and more fun to play." Combined with pitching from club ace Chris Wilkinson, this team was a tough club to beat, and they will contribute readily to future varsity seasons.

The Varsity team had to replace many of the key players from last year's team; however, they proved that through hard work, determination and paying attention to the little details of the game, they could experience success of their own. After starting out 1-4, the boys bounced back to win twelve of their next fifteen games. Anchored by seniors Trent Schauster, Michael Ulrich, Aaron Griffith, Josh Sandberg and Dane Barker, the team improved with every game and was a team to be reckoned with by the end of the season. They ended the regular season with a record of 20-13 and received a six seed in the Granite City Sectional. Teachers were presented with a new challenge this year as they switched gears to accommodate block scheduling. Class periods were thirty minutes longer and teachers taught six classes apiece. Ms. Kay expressed her thoughts by saying, "I'm confused; is it red day or black day?" With the increase in classes, the teachers also had an increase in the amount of grading and lecturing they had to do on average. According to Mr. Birkner, "I can't seem to figure out how there is less classwork but more paperwork." However, block scheduling has presented teachers with the opportunity to expand their curriculums and even teach new courses like women's biography, civil war, and stagecraft.

Two down and two to go was the main thought in the minds of the class of 2005. No longer freshmen and not yet upper classmen, the sophomores were stuck in a rut with no end in sight. As the year began, the sophomores participated in the Homecoming float competition, flag football, and in many other activities throughout Homecoming week. They worked a concession stand during the winter and had a Trivia Night in the spring to raise money for their added expenses. Prom was in the minds of the officers while they were trying to raise money. Next year will entail a great deal of effort and money when prom rolls around. With many sophomores earning their licenses, keys brought new thrills and greater freedom.

Saved by the Bell

by: Joel Bradley & Tyler Shelton

The junior class of 2004 won the most prestigious homecoming award, the spirit stick. They dominated the float competition en route to an easy victory. It was a difficult transition from sophomore to junior year for many reasons. The first of these was block scheduling. It was a new challenge for the students because classes were extended from 55 minutes to 90 minutes. They also had to adjust to having their classes every other day. For the first time in high school, the class had to take standardized tests. The ACT and Prarie State Exams were an accepted task by the junior class. The year was capped off by the junior/senior prom in April that was put on by the juniors. The juniors looked to seize every academic opportunity before they headed off to their final year of high school.

Starz!

by: Jackie Plocher and Dane Barker

Walking the halls of HHS for their final year, seniors prepared for college life and the work force. Seniors lived up to the expectations of a blue-ribbon school by outscoring all other area schools in the Prairie State Achievement Exams that were taken last March. Senior Natilee Cave stated, "I love being in the class of 2003. I mean, what other class has 17 valedictorians?" While adjusting to block scheduling, seniors got the opportunity to take more elective classes. They were able to prepare for post-high school life by taking classes such as foods, clothing, and home repairs. After observing this year's class for the past four years, it is very evident that these young men and women are the stars of tomorrow.

Nicole,
 Congratulations, Nicole! No matter where life takes you, you'll do wonderful things. We're proud of you and we love you.
 Mom, Dad, Tom, Sarah, Derrick and Ailee.

Crystal,
 You have made me so proud, from your role as head wench at the Madrigal dinners to your proud smiling face as color guard captain and all the other roles you've entertained with. But more than all these performances sharing these last four years, good times and bad, watching you grow into the beautiful young adult you are today has been priceless. Keep God in you heart; he will guide you in your future.
 Love, Mom

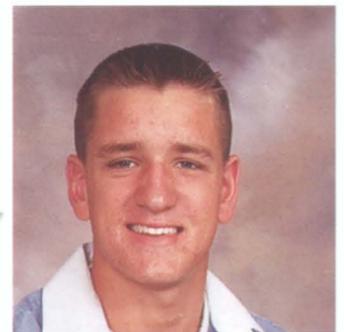

Kelly,
 "I have taught you the way of wisdom. I have led you in the path of virtue. When you walk, your steps will not falter, and when you run, your feet will not stumble. Keep hold of wisdom and guard her, for she is life." Adapted from Proverbs 4:11-13
 Kelly, congratulations on each accomplishment from spelling bee winner to National Merit!
 Love, Mom and Dad

Sarah,
 Congratulations! I want to let you know how very proud I am of you for all your hard work. I am excited for your future and wish you the very best. You are the most wonderful daughter any parent could wish for. Thanks for eighteen wonderful years. Always remember I love you and will always be there for you.
 Love, Mom

Nisa,
 Time FLIES.... and we've enjoyed every minute! Your creative sparkle shows in everything you do-from the card you made us, to the stories you write, and the videos you direct. We can't wait to see what happens next. Always believe in yourself, and know that you are loved more that you can imagine. Congratulations!!
 Mom, Dad, & Danny

Caleb,
 We are so very proud of you son; you are now truly becoming a young man. Reach your dreams and your goals and enjoy life every day to its fullest. Keep up the great work!
 Love Always & Forever
 Mom and Dad

2002-2003

Rebecca,
Congratulations to a wonderful daughter and sister! We are so proud of you. Always keep your great memories of band and good times with friends. May your future bring you much success and happiness, and may all of your dreams come true.
Love,
Mom, Dad, Rachel and Hannah

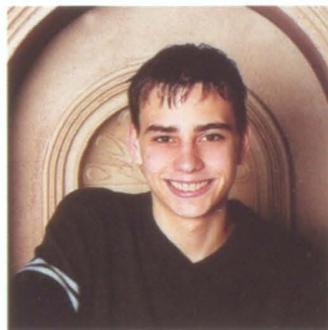

Ashley,
Congratulations Ashley. We are so very proud of you and all you have accomplished. Your self-confidence and strength will serve you well in all your challenges that lie ahead. We love you and we will always be there for you.
Love Always,
Mom, Dad, Tim and Tracy

Jason,
We wish you only the best as you take the next step down the road to success. We couldn't be prouder of you for all you've accomplished. Congratulations!
Love,
Mom, Dad and Kristi

Chad,
'2003-you'll be free'
Thank you for being a wonderful son, brother, and uncle. You have always shown us a strong personality, ready to understand us and help us to understand you. We love you for who you are.
Love, Your Family

Josh,
We've seen you grow from being a good kid to a good man. your future is as bright as your smile. We're very proud of you!
Love,
Mom and Dad

Katrina,
Our family has been through so much since your youth and has had to make so many changes. Let all you have learned and experienced from this be your strength in your future. It all has truly helped in making you the wonderful and beautiful person you are today. We are so proud of you and will help you accomplish every dream and goal you set for yourself.
Love You! Your Family

Katey,

As you graduate here are some memories to reflect on. Your first day of kindergarten. Your first dance recital. The countless performances and trips with Sunshine Singers. Then, all of those performances at the Muny, and singing with the Muny Kids and teens. Onto Poms, local plays, the Wizard of Oz, choir, Cabaret, Madrigals, and finally Maria in West Side Story. I'm very proud of you and who you've become.

Good luck in the future.
Love, Dad

Dane,

We are very proud of you and all of your accomplishments during your high school career! You have been a fantastic son, and brother! We've enjoyed watching all those baseball games through the years. Continue to keep Christ first in your life!

Love, Mom, Dad, Janae & Lauren

Derek,

Congratulations Derek. Your accomplishments through high school are many. The opportunities before you are endless. Work hard and don't compromise your values. Keep the faith.

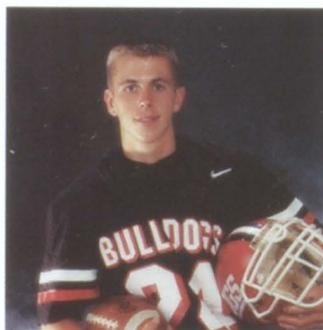

We love you.
Dad, Mom and Jeremy

Kate,

Congratulations Kate! You always have a smile on your face and see the best in everyone. We are so proud of you and all that you have accomplished in high school. We hope your future will be full of happiness and success.

Love
Mom and Dad

Steven,

As Maya Angelou once said, "The nights of work, the hours of hope amount at last to this day of joy. You have arrived." You are our dream come true! As your life unfolds always remain faithful to God, hold family dear, enjoy laughter with friends, be true to yourself, and make the most of each wonderful day. Best of luck at the University of Missouri-Rolla.

We love you,
Mom, Dad, and Joel

Stephanie,

We are so proud of you. We have enjoyed watching you at HHS. Thanks for sharing so much with us!

Love Always,
Mom, Dad, & Allison

2002-2003

Leah,
Our 'baby' is not a baby anymore.
Congratulations on your graduation and college scholarship.
May all your dreams come true!
"Keep it in the short grass"
Love,
Mom, Dad, Adam, & Trisha

Brandon,
Thank you for the love and joy you've brought into our lives. We're very proud of your accomplishments, but more importantly, of the fine young man you've become. Remember the four things that never come back: the spoken word, the sped arrow, time past, and the neglected opportunity. Always put God first and He will take care of everything else.
We love you.
Dad, Mom, Brittani, and Rachel Proverbs 3:5-6

Ashley,
WOW, what a privilege these last 18 years have been. We can't wait to watch your future! We truly admire the beautiful lady you've become.
You are so much fun!
Thanks for the incredible journey so far.
All our love,
Mom, Dad, Brittany, and Lia

Michael,
Congratulations! We are all very proud of you and your accomplishments. Success is definitely in your future. Aim high!
Love,
Mom, Dad and Zach

Erin,
To a wonderful daughter, sister and granddaughter:
Erin, we love you and wish you the best in college. Reach for the stars and remember,
"There is a destiny that makes us brothers, None goes his way alone. All that we send into the lives of others, Comes back into our own." - Markham
Love,

Natilee,
Congratulations! We're so proud of you and all you have accomplished. The high standards you set for yourself were well worth it. As you begin your college adventure, we wish you the very best. We know you'll do well. Always keep God in your heart, your caring spirit, your beautiful smile, and your future will bring you happiness and success. Have fun at Harding University!
Love, Russ, Mom, Calli, Devon, Caymon, and Emmalee

Best wishes John!
Love,
Mom, Dad, Annie, Dan &
Mandy

Jessica,
We share in your joy and happiness as you reach one goal and prepare for another. We watch in anticipation, as a rose before it blooms, to see all the positive differences you will make in this world. Congratulations sweetheart! You have done well! As one chapter closes, another begins.
Know always that you are loved and supported by your family.
"Behind every sunset is a sunrise waiting to happen..."
Love, Mom

Amy,
You're a very special person and the light of our lives! You mean so much to us and your smile lights up the world. As you graduate and go out into the world, our thoughts and prayers go with you. We want God's best for you and may you always seek His guidance and direction for your life.
We love you and are so very proud!
Mom, Dad and David

Chelsie, Congratulations! You are a very special person who has touched our lives. We are so proud of you for all the obstacles you have overcome. Cherish the memories and may your future bring you much happiness and success. Remember we love you very much and will always be here for you. As daddy's baby girl, you have made your father very proud and he is your very special guardian angel.

Sarah,
Congratulations! We are very proud of you.
You are very special to us. Good luck in the future. Always remember to keep God first in your life,
through Him all things are possible.
Love,
Mom Dad, Kristen and Jenny

Natilee,
You are an extraordinary person and a wonderful daughter. Since I can remember, you have always been out-going and very thoughtful of others. I couldn't be more proud of you and your accomplishments. You have become a beautiful young lady now and are moving on to a new life and I know you will attain all your goals as long as you keep the Lord first in your heart. I love you!
Dad

Ann,
Four years of high school have passed so fast and we have watched you grow and mature into a beautiful young lady. We are so proud of the fact that you have maintained a high grade point average, which kept you on honor roll for four years. College will be a big commitment the next four to six years and we will support you the whole way.
We love you,
Mom and Dad

Caleb,
Congratulations!
We love you,

to all that you hope to achieve and all that you hope to become.
We love you,
Mom Dad and Abby

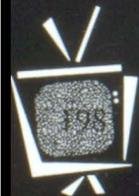

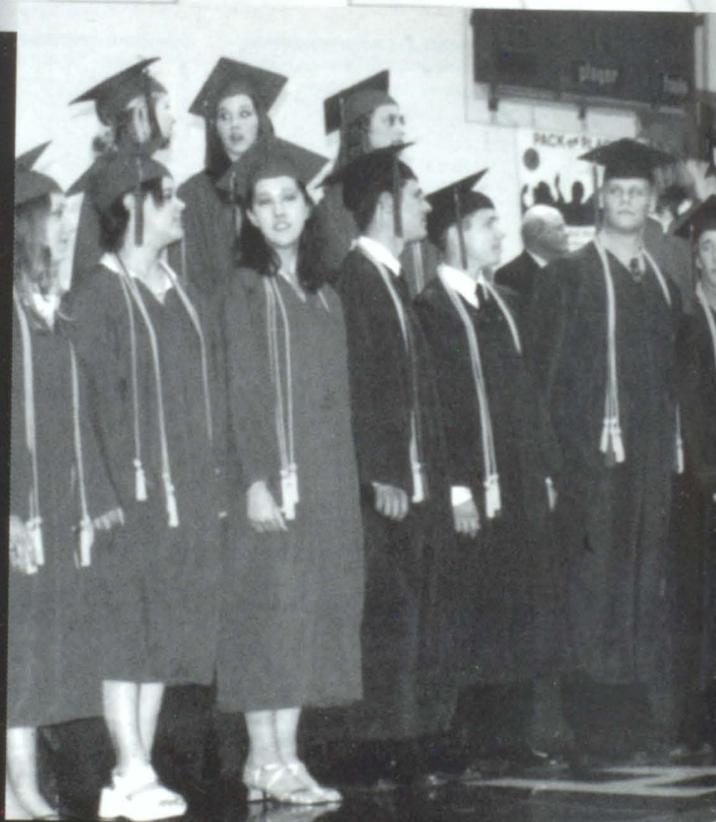

It is line-up time as the Class of 2003 prepares for the graduation processional.

Kyle Korte is all smiles as he waits for the processional to begin.

Seniors do their last "sign-in" in preparation for graduation as the final roll is taken.

"Friends, Always in My Heart" is sung by the 2003 Senior Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Lori Ruebhausen.

Bravo!

By: Mrs. Martz

Excellent weather marked graduation on Sunday, June 1. The band under the direction of Mr. Mike Allen provided the processional and recessional. Mr. Burgett made the valedictorian and salutatorian awards, and Mr. Carmitchel presented the Class of 2003 pictured below.

Sarah Delashmit is proud to shake hands with Board Member Rooney Barker.

Good Luck is the sign of the afternoon as seniors file into the gymnasium.

Mr. Burgett is honored to present WWII Veteran Burnell Hammel with his high school diploma from the Class of 1943.
