Dear Graduates of 1983

As you leave us after these four years, I would remind you of the verse and refrain of a song that has been special to you. The song is

"Here I Am, Lord."

1. I, the Lord of sea and sky, I have heard My people cry. All who dwell in dark and sin My hand will save. I who made the stars of night, I will make their darkness bright. Who will bear my light to them? Whom shall I send?

Refrain:
Here I am, Lord. Is it I, Lord? I have heard You calling in the night. I will go, Lord, if You lead me. I will hold Your people in my heart.

We send you forth to answer the Lord's call, using the knowledge, skills, and talents you have developed. Our prayer is that you will always respond to Him as generously as you have in the past. We are grateful for who you have been with us. Good Luck.

Homecoming '82 proved to be well-worth the efforts of St. Paul High School students, faculty and staff. As is traditional, the gym was given both the appearance and atmosphere of a ballroom. The theme, "Paradise Theatre" designed by Marnie Riffel and Tina Prusa, consisted of scenes from old-time movie classics.

Long hours and hard work helped to sustain that tradition begun in 1956, the crepe-paper canopy to lower the ceiling. The blue, pink and purple streamers produced an effect that was appreciated by all.

Members of the Honor Guard were: Alicia Lawrence, Mark Brinker, Susan Mitan, Alan Anderson, Tricia Kayser, Luke Zobrist, Diane Landmann and Tim Combs.

Junior attendants were: Karla Camillo, Jeff Schulte, Lisa Buhne, Steve Mitan, Pam Westerheide, Mark Jenkins, Karen Weckermeyer and John Menges.

The Court of Honor: Jeannie Korte, Chris Durbin, Vicky Kramper, Todd Geismann, Barb Steiner, Mike Wenos, Jodi Mersinger, Mark Wick, Marnie Riffel, Chris Hogan, Jan Zobrist, Steve Todt, Barb Geiger, Art Segeida, Karol Koerkenmeier and Ted Korte.

Mistress and Master of Ceremonies were Kay Eilerman and Bryan, while Matt Jenne and Angie Klaus acted as Crown Bearer and Flower Girl.

Many people say there is no such place as paradise, but everyone agreed that Homecoming '82 was one "of the best of times."

Jeannie Korte, '83
Once there was a small seed. Found by a gardener, it was in kind and gentle hands. With loving care the gardener planted the seed. He watered it, fertilized it, and made sure the summer sunshine kept the seed warm.

For many years the gardener watched the seed, hoping and praying. When it finally sprouted, he was so proud! He continued his labors, keeping away the weeds, disease, and insects, and the sprout continued to grow.

As the leaves began to unfold in greater numbers, the gardener put a small stick in the pot to keep the plant growing straight and tall. He talked to the plant daily and guarded it with his life. He gave the plant special food and purchased other plants to keep it company. Still, among all these, this one plant was special and he knew it.

Finally, after years of labor, the gardener awoke one day to find a bud on the plant. Soon, before his eyes, the bud opened to a beautiful blossom. The plant had given him one perfect, fragrant flower.

Tonight we gather to mark a stepping stone in our lives. We ask God to bless us as we begin our final year at St. Paul and prepare for our lives beyond. We ask God to guide us as we make the important decisions of the upcoming years. We express the ties we have with our classmates, the other students, and the faculty. We ask for the power to continue to grow even closer as a class and to share our spirit with those around us.

Still, we cannot look constantly to the future without taking time to look back. I speak on behalf of the class of '83 as I say thank you—all of you for bringing us to where we are.

Teachers, parents, brothers and sister, friends . . . we needed all of you. You are all a part of our lives and we would not be here if it weren’t for your support.

Among you there are some especially wonderful people that we would like to single out. These are the Gardeners of the Class of '83. These are the people who were always there when we needed a helping hand, a guide, a pat on the back, or just a little love. These people understood our ups and downs. They have encouraged us to continue growing and learning from our earliest years and have worked constantly to keep us walking the right path.

Of course I am speaking of our parents. Tonight these matured plants wish to reward their gardeners for all they have done with a flower. These roses are simple gifts but with them goes this message . . . We thank you for all you’ve done . . . for all these years. We love you and will never forget what you have done for us.

Our senior year, as rose, may unfold before us much faster than we wish. Still, we cannot erase the past from our minds and you all are our past . . . and our future.

We thank you all. BARBARA GEIGER '83

Once again this past year, the class of 1984 adopted as their class cheer "Juniors haul bananas," a slogan which echoed throughout the halls of St. Paul's. The junior class showed its spirit in many other ways, which included winning the Spirit Award at an early and exciting pep rally, and taking the title of "Mr. Irresistible" away from the traditional senior. Kirk Wilhaber literally captured the hearts of enough St. Paul girls to defeat senior Ted Korte in the annual homecoming week contest.

The juniors once again received their class rings in a special junior year ceremony, after a lot of hard work and many long hours of discussion and planning. The rings were distributed at an all-school mass at the end of the 1982-83 school year.

Keeping with tradition, the juniors planned and hosted a Spring Formal for the senior class and for the rest of the student body, and are now looking forward to their own senior years.

It was an eventful year for all sophomores, and most of the sophomores got the chance to receive their driver's license. The sophomores also distinguished themselves this year when they held the first successful balloon sale.

Kay Landmann brought honor to the sophomore class by winning the Hugh O'Brien award given for service and leadership, and Anita Mendez beat out a junior contender in the Homecoming Week Limbo Contest.

McDonald's and Ken's Pizza were favorite places where sophomores could meet friends and enjoy their week-ends.

The upperclassmen of St. Paul High School enjoyed the pressure of fifty-four freshman added to the St. Paul family in 1982-83 school year. The freshmen have shown much spirit by their participation in various sports activities, homecoming, the spring musical, Christian service, and pep rallies. The freshman class also distinguished themselves by holding the first early-morning doughnut sale, which was a good fund raiser for them. We hope they have enjoyed their first year with St. Paul’s, and will be with us for not only the remainder of their high school years, but as part of the family for many years to come.

On April 22, 23, and 24, 1983, St. Paul High School presented DAMN YANKEES, a musical comedy about a loyal Washington Senators fan who sells his soul to the devil to ensure a winning season. Much hard work went into the production, which involved faculty members, students, stage crew, pit band, lighting crew, make-up crew, and many others.

DAMN YANKEES was under the direction of Ms. Laura Yann, Mrs. Luanne Murphy, and Mr. Jim Neyer, pit band director. Cast members included Gary Long, Kay Eilerman, Marnie Riffel, Don Geiger, Andrew Anderson in the leading roles, with a large supporting cast.

Rehearsals began in late February for the April performances, and involved a lot of long hours and hard work for all involved.

On April 22, the cast of DAMN YANKEES presented a special performance for the residents of area nursing homes. It was a special evening for all of us.

St. Paul Chorus 1982-83 was composed of a small but very talented group of musicians. Two concerts were given for parents and friends, one each semester. St. Paul was represented at the annual District VI Music Festival at SIU-Carbondale by Kay Eilerman, Barb Geiger, Gary Long and Deb Spengel. There was a Christmas caroling evening in December followed by a get-together for pizza at Gary Long's home.

A concert was given for grades 3-8 at St. Paul Grade School in March. The purpose was to expose the eighth grade students to what we do in Chorus. As a consequence, over 25 eighth graders registered for Chorus for the 1983-84 school year.

Most of the members of the chorus were involved in this year's spring Musical, DAMN YANKEES. The following students were also active in the Thursday or Sunday folk groups at church: Shari Aschbacher, Matt Basler, Mark Brinker, Suann Frey, Barb Geiger, Linda Stoff and Ron Walter.

Kay Eilerman, Barb Geiger, Linda Stoff and Deb Spengel are four seniors who have been active in Chorus for two to four years during their high school years at St. Paul's. They will be missed.

The 1982 school year began two new traditions for Spanish Club. Nacho sales and root beer float sales enjoyed great popularity during lunch periods. Profits from these sales are usually used to buy audiovisual equipment for the Spanish room. This year, however, a portion will be donated to our Honduran mission project. Through Sister Danielle Witt, a former teacher at St. Paul, Spanish classes are helping financially both a family and a high school student studying to be a nurse.

Spanish Club meetings included a program by a Mexican exchange student of Europe by Mrs. Luanne Murphy. Members also gathered at Mrs. Boulanger's home for an international dinner and in the spring traveled to St. Louis for brunch at a Mexican restaurant.
NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY
1982-'83

These seniors pictured worked in pair to gather news of St. Paul High School for composition into articles for the Highland News Leader. The students were responsible for a weekly column which spotlighted the various events held at St. Paul's, and the various students involved. The students in this way shared with the community at large those happenings important to the school. The articles ranged from those covering school activities to advertising upcoming events to congratulating students for their achievements.

This year, fifty-eight students volunteered to be a part of the St. Paul Christian Service program. Before School, during lunch periods or study halls, and even after school hours, students gave of their time and talents to help in various areas: St. Paul Preschool, Kindergarten, Elementary, and Junior High School; St. Joseph Hospital; teachers' assistants and office work on maintenance at St. Paul High School. Duties varied from helping a preschooler cut out a pumpkin to studying nouns and verbs with a junior high student to bringing reading materials to hospital patients to cleaning test tubes for a science teacher. The message, however, remained the same; what you have received as a gift, give as a gift.

This past year, the cheerleaders put much effort into making the season their best yet. Besides fulfilling the regular duties as cheerleaders, which include organizing pep rallies, selling refreshments at soccer games, and organizing senior night, the cheerleaders also had their 6th annual cheerleading camp for girls ages 10-15. Many activities followed in the busy season ahead.

The girls devoted long hours and hard work to become the state champions at summer camp as well as placing 3rd of 15 squads at the Mater Dei Christmas Tournament. It was a great year!!
